NO. 121—SIXTY-SIXTH YEAR | VICTORIA, BRITISH COLUMBIA, THURSDAY, MAY 1, 1924 | TWENTY PAGES

CYCLONES IN SOUTH TAKE HUGE TOLL

CITY MAY LOSE PORT BUSINESS

Enforcement of New American Marine Law Will Create Grave Situation Here, Shipping Men State

VESSELS WILL PASS ON TO MAINLAND PORT

Ships of Three Big Fleets Will Be Diverted to Vancouver If Section Twenty-Eight Is Enforced

VICTORIA faces the possible loss of over one-third of her deep-sea shipping business if the proposed Section 28 of the United States Marine Act is enforced on June 20, prominent shipping men stated yesterday.

"The situation warrants the gravest concern," stated Mr. A. H. Hebb, general agent here for the Nippon Yusen Kaisha Steamship Company and the Great Northern Railway.

The arrival of nearly one hundred vessels each year with freight and passengers from the Orient will be cancelled, if Section 28 is enforced, it is said, and the ships will proceed direct to Vancouver.

These vessels comprise the fleets of the Nippon Yusen Kaisha, the Osaka Shosen Kaisha, and the Blue Funnel line.

Section 28 provides for a 5 per cent preferential rate on all cargoes from and to foreign ports which are carried on American railroads or in American ships.

Thus a 5 per cent higher rate would be imposed on freight discharged at Seattle by British or Japanese ships for transhipment to any point in the United States than would be charged on a cargo brought by an American vessel.

Vessels arriving on the North Pacific Coast from the Orient carry for the most part cargoes which must be shipped across the continent to Chicago to New York, or to Montreal. This entails a long rail haul. Under the discriminatory rates of Section 28 foreign vessels could not survive the competition of American vessels.

CHALLENGES TO APPEAL TO PEOPLE

GEN. CLARK SAYS BUDGET IS GROSS MISREPRESENTATION

Declares Deficit of $26,906,000 Exists in Federal Treasury Instead of Alleged Surplus

OTTAWA, April 30. — But two speakers contributed to the debate on the budget in today's brief sitting of the House.

General J. A. Clark, Conservative, was strong in his condemnation. The budget was a gross misrepresentation of the true state of the country's finances. He challenged the Government to go to the country and ask for a mandate to depart from the Laurier-Fielding tariff policy "and see what the people will say."

Mr. Clark stated that the acting Minister of Finance should have shown a deficit of $26,906,000 instead of a surplus of $30,000,000. The comparisons given in the budget were unfair. The result would be that Canada's national debt would be impossible to ascertain if the same methods of keeping the national accounts were pursued.

Speaking of the tariff he said: "You cannot promote one great industry by killing another great industry," he feared the tariff will cause a bitterness in the industrial East against the West.

Danger to Industries

General Clark said that 917 Canadian industries were vitally affected by the present budget and particularly stressed the danger to makers of logging machinery in Vancouver.

From the ranks of the Liberals E. A. Lapierre, of Nipissing, came forward in defence of the budget. He declared that the Government was living up to the Liberal platform of 1919. The budget was a step toward stability and progress and would do a great deal to restore normal conditions in Canada. Manufacturers, he said, had made such profits during the war that some of them had blushed to take them. Some had turned back excess profits into the business and built up huge plants which normal times could not maintain. They had lived to keep up war-time prices and prosperity. When they failed they blamed the budget.

Alberta Demand for Farm Labor Ceases

EDMONTON, April 30.—Alberta is now pretty well caught up on its labor supply for Spring farm work, according to officials of the Provincial labor branch. Farm wages are running $25 to $50 a month and the farmers' demands have been practically satisfied to date. There is still a shortage, however, in domestic help and the new arrivals of Old Country immigrants are being awaited for relief in this respect.

CONSERVATIVE ATTACK OPENS

Sir Robert Horne Stresses Flouting of Imperial Conference and Holding of the Empire Together

MR. THOMAS SAYS TORIES ARE NOT SOLE GUARDIANS

Liberals Hold Hurried Parley and Surprise House by Adopting the Budget as Their Own

MR. REGINALD McKENNA
Whose tariff provisions were under discussion yesterday in Parliament.

LONDON, April 30. — The Conservatives began their attack on the Labor Government's budget in the House of Commons today. The onslaught of criticism was aimed at the abolition of the McKenna duties on foreign manufactures and Labor's intention to oppose any building of a tariff wall around the Empire by a scheme of Imperial preference.

In leading the Conservative attack, Sir Robert Horne, former Chancellor of the Exchequer, said he saw no prospect at all of holding the British Empire together if the Government was going to flout the resolutions passed at the Imperial Conference last Autumn.

SIR LOUIS DAVIES DIED THIS MORNING

CHIEF JUSTICE OF CANADA PASSED AWAY AT OTTAWA

Aged Seventy-Nine Years, He Had Occupied Many Prominent Positions in Dominion

OTTAWA, May 1.—Sir Louis Davies, Chief Justice of Canada, died this morning at 12:35 o'clock, after an illness of five days. He was seventy-nine years old.

Hon. Sir Louis Davies, K.C., K.C.M.G., Chief Justice of the Supreme Court of Canada, occupied a prominent position in the legal profession, in the field of politics, and finally on the bench for half a century. The late Chief Justice was born in Charlottetown, Prince Edward Island, a son of Hon. Benjamin Davies, formerly Colonial Secretary of that Province, and his wife, Kezia Attwood Watts, on May 4, 1845. Having taken up the study of the law, he went to London, England, and completed his studies at the Inner Temple. He was called to the bar in 1866, and created a Queen's Counsel in 1880. Sir Louis Davies entered the field of politics, as

CRUISER BUILDING DISCUSSED IN HOUSE

Proposed Constructions by United States and Britain Draws Statement From Premier

LONDON, April 30.—The bill pending in the United States Congress authorizing the construction of eight new cruisers gave rise today to a renewed discussion in the House as to the possibility of another disarmament conference, and brought a statement from Premier MacDonald to the effect that the political situation in Europe must be smoothed out somewhat before limitation of armaments could be discussed again.

It was asserted that the new United States cruisers and the five cruisers to be constructed by Britain were outside the limitations of the Washington Conference.

Mr. MacDonald, answering a question whether the British cruisers were outside the Washington limitations, replied:

"They are only partly in."

Elevators Here and Early Election Said to Be Premier's Surprise

VICTORIA will get the promise of a grain elevator, and the Province the announcement of a general election before Dominion Day, when Premier Oliver returns this afternoon or tomorrow morning from Ottawa, if reports current in the city last night prove to be well authenticated.

The programme arranged against the Premier's return, according to this suggestion, includes the prompt publication of Mr. Justice Galliher's report as Royal Commissioner of the recent inquiry into the affairs of the Pacific Great Eastern Railway, followed by the announcement of the election date, the whole to be sweetened for Victoria consumption with the news that the Premier has prevailed upon his fellow Liberals at Ottawa to insure Dominion aid for elevators here.

While no definite date for the general election is mentioned in this inspired forecast of coming events, the announcement that it had been fixed for a date towards the end of June would occasion no surprise. Premier Oliver and his colleagues are known to favor a short, intensive campaign.

"It will be all over but the shouting before Dominion Day," was the way it was put by a local politician known to be in the inner circles of Victoria Liberalism.

Reports were current yesterday that the House would be dissolved next Tuesday.

MAY OFFER NEW RAILWAY POLICY

Premier Oliver's Visit to Ottawa, Known to Have Reference to Election Necessities, Acquires Significance in Light of Reported Utterances in Edmonton—Pacific Great Eastern Expected to Emerge as Issue in Coming Campaign

A NEW railway policy for British Columbia, as the principal plank in the Oliver Government's platform at the coming general election, entered the region of political probability yesterday, as the result of advices received by Cabinet Ministers here of the recent movements and utterances of Premier Oliver, now en route to Victoria from Ottawa, where for a week he was in conference with members of the Dominion Cabinet.

Interviewed at Edmonton yesterday, Premier Oliver was reported to have said, speaking of the future of the Edmonton, Dunvegan & British Columbia Railway, and of railway development of the Peace River country, that, in his opinion, "whatever system makes the connection with the Pacific Great Eastern will control the whole situation."

For Campaign Purposes

Further significance is given to this report by the fact that Premier Herbert Greenfield, of Alberta, travelled east from Edmonton this week to meet Premier Oliver en route. The two Premiers traveled west for nearly a day. Their conference, it was hinted here yesterday, would probably include a discussion of the railway situation generally, as well as of that phase of it limited by the long agitation of the Western provinces for better freight rates.

As suggested several times recently in The Colonist, the probable purpose of Premier Oliver's visit to Ottawa at this time was his desire to bring back a railway policy so attractive in Provincial eyes as to lessen the risks, from the administration point of view, of bringing on the election this Summer. While no Cabinet Minister can be induced to admit that there is anything in the suggestion, what has transpired as to the Premier's activities in Ottawa, taken with his own admission before he left here that he would discuss railway questions there, makes it likely enough that the campaign rabbit to be produced from the campaign hat will prove to be a railway policy.

The P.G.E. Again

While it is unlikely, on the one hand, that such a policy, if and when it is proposed, will offer a complete solution of the Pacific Great Eastern problem, it is regarded in Liberal party circles as excellent campaign politics, on the other hand, that any railway policy should include a scheme looking to the ultimate place of that road in the economic scheme of things provincial.

The statements attributed to Premier Oliver yesterday, viewed in the light of these suggestions, have a significance of their own for those who recall the Premier's reputation as an astute campaign manager. The reported mention by the Premier of the Pacific Great Eastern in any discussion of the Edmonton, Dunvegan & British Columbia road is regarded as an indication of the political winds now blowing strongly from the Liberal Government, which must shortly face the electors of British Columbia.

The Ultimate Intention

The Edmonton & Dunvegan Railway, built by the Alberta Government to provide transportation for the settlers of the Peace River country, and later leased to the Canadian Pacific Railway, with an option of purchase, is likely, it is understood, to come back on the hands of the Alberta Government. It is recalled in this connection that Premier Oliver has been actively opposed to the suggestion that the Edmonton line should be extended, with Dominion Government aid, to Brule Lake, and has proposed an alternative suggestion.

A proposal which Premier Oliver is thought to favor is an arrangement whereby Alberta would extend the Edmonton & Dunvegan line to the British Columbia boundary, in the neighborhood of Pouce Coupe. From there, under the terms of this proposal, the British Columbia Government would carry the line on to Fort St. John, in the large block of agricultural lands held for settlement by the Dominion. The scheme would be ultimately rounded out by a line from Fort St. John south to Prince George, which would bring the Pacific Great Eastern into the picture as the logical outlet for Peace River grains and beef products.

KLONDIKE TICKER OUTSIDE FOR GOOD

PIONEER TELEGRAPHER OF YUKON HAS QUIT

With Wife Arrives at Vancouver After Quarter of Century in Far Northern Region

VANCOUVER, April 30.—After a quarter century in the Far North, most of that time at the telegraph key in some lonely cabin of the Yukon telegraph line, George S. Fleming has quit. The real pioneer key man of the line is now visiting friends in Vancouver on his way south for good. Mrs. Fleming, who shared the loneliness of the life for many years, is with him, and they have come "outside" for good.

To Mr. Fleming belongs the distinction of having operated the key when the first telegram was ticked out of the Yukon.

At White Horse in 1898

It was in 1898, and at that time he was an employee of the White Pass Railway. He was the first operator at White Horse when the Dominion line was built to that point in 1899.

Mrs. Fleming was the first white woman resident of White Horse, and she and her husband have considered that town their home ever since. They joined the rush to the Klondike in 1898, and worked in a mine for a while. In the Autumn of that year Mr. Fleming went to Skagway and operated the key at that station on the railroad. Then the following year he joined the Government telegraph service when the line was building from Lake Bennett to Dawson. He remained on the job till 1914, when he was made northern superintendent.

GOVERNMENT AIDS BERRY GROWERS

MINISTER OF AGRICULTURE ANNOUNCES $100,000 ADVANCE

Money Will Be Available to Cover Cost of Packing Surplus Fruits This Season

VANCOUVER, April 30.—Hon. E. D. Barrow, Minister of Agriculture, who was in the city today, stated that the provision made by the Government for an industrial department loan of $100,000 to the B.C. Berry Growers' Union, as announced this morning, was not for the purpose of purchasing a cannery.

"The money is to assist the union in financing the pack of fruit over and above what is sold fresh either to prairie market or to canneries," he said. "Last year the association decided to process the surplus, but the scheme was not a success. This year they have decided to have it packed.

Pays Cost of Packing Fruit

"The money up to $100,000, if that sum is required, will be advanced to pay the cost of packing the fruit. The existing canneries may do it or the Berry Growers' Union may acquire a cannery of their own. The Government has nothing to do with that. We shall advance no money to the union, but shall merely pay their bills for packing. In exchange we take a lien on the fruit itself, which is our security.

"The union, not having paid back the bank's loan of last year, was unable to raise funds in the banks this year, and we have come to their assistance, as the surplus is estimated at from 500 to 700 tons. There is a good market for this pack in the Old Country."

STEADY DRINKING HELPS LONGEVITY

Professor of Johns Hopkins University Announces Postulate That Continued Use of Alcohol Improves Imbibers' "Expectation of Life," According to Mortality Tables Prepared in Cases of 150,000 "Person-Years"

WASHINGTON, April 30.—A paper by Dr. Raymond Pearl, of Johns Hopkins University, presenting "expectation of life" tables on users of alcohol calculated in the same manner as life insurance mortality tables, was read today at the concluding sessions of the annual meeting of the National Academy of Sciences.

"Steady drinkers," Dr. Pearl said, "have a better expectation of life at all ages from 30 to the end of the life span than do total abstainers."

His tables, he said, were based on data including "exact records as to the drinking habits of thousands of persons throughout their lives," and covering more than 150,000 person-years, "exposure to risk."

The difference in the life span expectations of steady drinkers and total abstainers, he said, "are not very great, but there is a distinct and well-marked advantage in favor of the moderate steady drinkers."

"Heavy drinkers," he continued, "have the poorest expectation of life at all ages after 30 in the case of females, and at all ages after 30 and up to about 65 in the case of males. From about 65 on the heavy drinking males and the total abstaining males have about the same expectation.

PROPERTY LOSS MAY EXCEED TEN MILLION

Human Beings, Including Several Children, Picked Up and Hurled Hundreds of Feet Through the Air —Storm Said to Be Unparalleled in That Section of the Country

ATLANTA, Ga., April 30.—The known death list in today's devastating storms in the Southeast mounted to ninety-five late tonight as reports, far from complete, continued to be received. Large numbers are reported missing, with more than five hundred injured, many perhaps fatally and hundreds made homeless.

South Carolina, with a total of forty-one known dead, many others reported killed, and more than one hundred injured, seventy-eight seriously, was the hardest hit. Incomplete reports from Alabama tell of eighteen deaths, more than a score of persons injured and some missing; while four are known to have been killed in Georgia, and more than a score injured. Not included in the toll of casualties in today's storm was one negro, who was killed last night in Louisiana.

MRS. MARY ELLEN SMITH, M.L.A.
Who will probably be appointed by the Provincial Government shortly to undertake an educational survey of British Columbia along the lines proposed at the last session of the House by Hon. J. D. MacLean, whose office of Minister of Education Mrs. Smith is scheduled to assume in the event of a return of the Government at the general election.

Nine Dead in North Carolina

Twenty-seven persons are known to have been injured in North Carolina.

Property damage in the stricken districts possibly will amount to nearly $10,000,000, according to preliminary estimates.

Relief measures already have been inaugurated by the Southern division of the American Red Cross. The storm in its destructive force, unparalleled in the history of this section of the country, left a path marked by desolation and wreckage already estimated at more than 1,000 miles in length.

Hurled Through Air

Human beings, including several children, were picked up as if they had been paper and hurled hundreds of feet through the air; houses barns and public buildings were smashed after being lifted from their foundations, numbers of livestock met death in the wreckage; trees were uprooted and hundreds of miles of telephone and telegraph wires were torn down.

Sweeping upward from the Tennessee-Arkansas line, its starting point yesterday, through Tennessee, Georgia, Alabama, and touching parts of Louisiana and Mississippi, the hurricane struck South Carolina with all it force early today.

The tornadoes converged at Morrell Hill, twenty miles from Columbia and laid waste the entire section. Sixteen lives were lost, including four children who were among seventy-five pupils buried beneath the debris of the schoolhouse.

CHURCH UNION BILL DISCUSSION OPENS

FIRST DAY CONCLUDES WITH ABETTORS ON STAND

Private Bills Committee Room Not Large Enough to Admit Crowds Eager to Hear Case

OTTAWA, April 30.—The first day of the battle over church union in Private Bills Committee of the House closed without the case for the union ists being completed. Three laymen, representing the Presbyterian, Methodists and Congregational churches were heard and the opening statement on the legal side of the proposal was given. There are still three speakers for the unionists to be heard before the opponents of the measure get their innings. Present appearances suggest that it will be well into next week before the committee gets down to considering the bill itself.

ALL HOPE ABANDONED OF RESCUING MINERS

Sixty-Six Victims of Wheeling Explosion Last Monday Still Buried in Underground Workings

WHEELING, W.Va., April 30.—A call was sent out today by R. M. Lambe, chief of the West Virginia Bureau of Mines, for additional rescue crews to complete the exploration of the Benwood mine of the Wheeling Steel Corporation, where 111 men were trapped in an explosion Monday. Three additional bodies were located during the day, leaving 66 of the miners in the workings at the time of the explosion unaccounted for. The last hope that any of the victims would be found alive vanished tonight when rescue workers penetrated entry No. 3 and found four additional bodies. The progress was halted temporarily by a curtain of water, which rushed down from overhead, but officials hope to complete exploring the entry before daybreak.

OTTAWA, April 30.—The exportation of Canadian-made automobiles during the twelve months ended March, 1924, showed a marked increase over the exportations during the twelve months ended March, 1923. The increase was chiefly in automobiles for freight purposes, of which 15,396 were exported during the last twelve months. During the preceding year only 3,720 of this type left Canada. TROTZKY PRONOUNCES MAY DAY BENEDICTION

Launches Vigorous Tirade Against Great Britain, France, Poland, Japan and United States

MOSCOW, April 30. — Elaborate preparations are in the making for a great May Day celebration. The city is decorated in true revolutionary fashion, with red bunting and flags flaming pictorial placards, illuminated transparencies and lithographs of Lenine and Karl Marx everywhere. Platforms have been erected in the important centres, where Soviet orators will address the crowds.

The keynote of the celebration was sounded by Trotzky in a two-hour speech before an audience of 5,000 in the Grand Theatre Monday night when he said: "The principal purpose of May Day should be an unremitting struggle against militarism, but the question of safeguarding the Soviet Republic is the vital one of the hour. We must therefore regard this day as the greatest holiday for our army and navy."

Vigorous Tirade

He launched into a vigorous tirade against France, Poland, Japan and Great Britain for their attitude toward the Soviet government. Among the principal passages in Trotzky's speech were:

"The legend circulated abroad that we are mobilizing our army against Poland is untrue. We want to change the map of Europe, but this can only be achieved by the victorious march of the proletariat. We shall not throw ourselves into an armed struggle when the time is inopportune.

"We are going to help the eastern people shake off the yoke of foreign domination. We shall never pay the Czar's debts to France. We are standing firmly on our feet. The French know they will never overthrow us.

"Certain Japanese government circles favor the idea of plunging Japan into war against Russia in order to rehabilitate the losses suffered from the earthquake and the moral defeat suffered at the hands of the United States in the passage of the bill against Japanese immigration.

"Japan, in my opinion, is on the eve of a revolution similar to that in Russia in 1905."

He criticized the Labor government of Great Britain "for suppressing the struggle for freedom in Afghanistan," and for increasing its military budget.

Timid Labor Government

"If the Labor Government has the courage and valor which are demanded of working-class leaders," he said, "it would seize the opportunity to conclude a treaty with Soviet Russia because such a treaty would result in remapping Europe. The combination of Russian wealth and resources with British technique would be the great power in European affairs. We would then be able to dictate to Europe.

"But there is so much government in England, that we must be prepared to accept any agreement which we shall carry out, hoping later that it will result in greater mutual advantages."

TORONTO, April 30—Ethel Etherington, 32, was rushed to the General Hospital early today in a very serious condition, having been terribly cut and slashed by a knife, and had five bad wounds on her face and about her body.

The police found her in front of her home in a pool of blood. Women in the neighborhood informed the police that she had been attacked by a man in front of her home at 1:50 o'clock.

Police apprehended W. M. Robinson, negro, shortly after 2:30, after women who claimed to have followed the man who attacked the injured woman pointed him out to the police. Robinson emphatically denied all knowledge of the occurrence.

Boot and Shoe Exports

OTTAWA, April 30.—The value of boots and shoes exported by Canada in the year ended March, 1924, more than doubled the value of Canadian boots exported the previous year. Last year the exportations were $304,913, and the previous year $130,034. The United States was the chief buyer, taking 2,227 pairs, with Japan second, taking 1,628 pairs.

UNDUE OPTIMISM MAY HAVE DISASTROUS END

London Times Deems Chief Fear as to Mr. Snowden's Budget Lies in a Too Hopeful Anticipation of Results and May Lead to Raid on Sinking Funds to Make Up Possible Deficiency

Tories Are Surprised at Chancellor's Moderation

LONDON, April 30.—This morning's London newspapers of all shades of political opinion, generally concede that the budget introduced in the House of Commons yesterday by the Chancellor of the Exchequer, Philip Snowden, is a very clever one, which on the whole is bound to be distinctly popular throughout the country.

Naturally there is adverse criticism of some of the features of the plan, but the Labor Chancellor, nevertheless, has every reason to be gratified at the reception of his first budget, which, it is widely admitted, is so favorable to all interests that if the Government called an election now it probably would be returned in possession of real power instead of merely holding office through the sufferance of the other parties.

There is, however, no suggestion that the Government contemplates such a step, which seems all the less called for, as the budget has won the good opinion of the Liberals, on whose favor the administration mainly depends for its continuance in office.

The Conservatives do not conceal their surprise at the Chancellor's moderation. They had feared increases in the death duties and the super-tax, and their relief that neither was changed was accompanied by satisfaction at the abolition of the corporation profits tax, but they regard these favors as intended for propaganda purposes, to disarm any suspicions of the anti-Socialist part of the community.

The financial commentators say the fact that the Chancellor's proposal left the sinking fund unchanged and provided for no increase in taxation, will have a favorable effect in the city and is likely to lead to improvement in the best classes of securities.

There are, however, such criticisms as the following from The Times:

"The chief fault with the budget from a purely financial viewpoint is its excessive optimism. It was upon the assumption that his estimate of £828,100,000 revenue is correct that he made unexpected liberal reduction in certain kinds of taxation, but should the estimates be unrealized, it is hard to see how he can avoid a raid upon the sinking fund."

Some of the critics are severe upon the repeal of the McKenna duties and the Government's attitude toward Imperial preference. These will be special subjects of attack in the budget debate by the Conservatives, and some confidence is expressed that a compromise regarding the McKenna tariff may be arranged before the budget is finally passed.

The Liberals, as champions of free trade, naturally favor the abolition of the war duties, but when the Liberal Daily News thinks the three months' grace given the motor and other trades affected is far too short to enable these industries to make the necessary adjustments to meet the changed conditions, and it advocates gradual extinction of the duties in three successive instalments.

But all these questions of finance and protective tariffs are swamped, as regards the masses of the people, in the gratification at the cheapening of food and drinks, especially the big reduction of the tea duty. The cheapening of tea, together with the reductions on necessaries in other directions, will gain hearty approval for the Government from thousands of workmen. The reduction in the tea duty will also be welcomed by the wholesale and retail dealers.

Among the minor points in Mr. Snowden's speech was an announcement that the consumption of spirits had not continued to decline as previously, but instead had slightly increased of late. The Chancellor, who is a teetotaller, raised a laugh by artlessly explaining that this was probably due to the long, cold Winter and the prevalence of influenza.

Dealing with the estimates for fighting services, he remarked that, notwithstanding the expansion of the air force, the estimates were nearly £7,000,000 less than those of the previous year.

Fire in Winnipeg

WINNIPEG, April 30.—Fire of unknown origin today virtually destroyed the old three-story Maw block at William Avenue and King Street, in Winnipeg's downtown business district. The damage to the buildings and to tenants' stocks is estimated at $104,000, partly covered by insurance.

About 20,000 watches are sold in Mexico annually.

Two Business Men And Doctor May Be Choice of Liberals

Messrs. James H. Beatty and C. H. O'Halloran and Dr. Melbourne Raynor are said to be prominent in the local list of possible candidates to come before the Liberal nominating convention for Victoria City, to be held here next Thursday. The candidates' committee of the party is already actively engaged in interviewing a selected list of citizens.

Mr. Beatty, one of the best known business men of the city, is manager of the Sprott-Shaw Business College here, and the recently-elected president of the Rotary Club. He is one of the most active members of the Chamber of Commerce. Mr. O'Halloran is the law partner of Mr. Henry Hall, K.C., formerly a member of the Provincial House for Victoria. Mr. O'Halloran is an energetic member of the local Liberal organization. Dr. Raynor, former chairman of the City School Board, is well known here, both as a doctor and an active worker in the anti-narcotic movement.

World's Greatest Milch Cow Victim Of Cattle Plague

SACRAMENTO, Cal., April 30.—Tillie Arcartra, known as the world's greatest milch cow, is dead in Los Angeles. She was killed yesterday when it became known she was suffering from the foot and mouth disease.

Tillie Arcartra was banquetted in the dining-hall of the Hotel Multnomah, at Portland, several years ago at the national convention of cattlemen.

Black Hands Threaten Governor of Louisiana

BATON ROUGE, April 30.—Governor Parker, who fixed May 9 as the date for the execution of the six Italians for the murder of Dalias Caimes, received several alleged "black hand" letters today threatening his life, unless the lives of the six men are spared. Archie Rennison, superintendent of the Orleans parish prison, today received a letter offering him $50,000, and Colonel Guy Molony, superintendent of the New Orleans police department, $25,000, if they would permit the escape from jail of the six Italians condemned to die at Amite May 9.

MAY DAY MESSAGE FROM LABOR PREMIER

Hon. Ramsay MacDonald Greets Comrades of Labor and Socialism Abroad on Event

LONDON, April 30.—Premier MacDonald in his May Day message to Labor and the Socialist Government, made public today, expresses the hope that another May Day will see the League of Nations transformed into "an all-embracing parliament of peoples," and predicts the coming of a day of international peace. The message follows:

"It is a greater pleasure than ever this year to send May Day greetings to all our comrades of Labor and the Socialist movement at home and abroad. The day of international peace which we celebrate on May Day is assuredly coming. The nations, tired of conflict and disillusioned in their war hatreds and war mentality, are seeking new paths that make for friendship and security."

"My fervent hope is that by another May Day the League of Nations may become an all-embracing parliament of peoples, and I venture to think that nothing could more fittingly mark that great achievement than that the first law of the league should, by common consent, set aside May Day in every land as a festival day of world friendship—a day solemn with the remembrances of the futility of ancient feuds and vital with high hopes for that great human companionship for which mankind is destined."

Provincial Party Making Arrangements for Visit of Leader and Sir Charles Tupper

The Provincial party is making elaborate arrangements for the reception to be tendered to General A. D. McRae, the leader of that party, and Sir Charles Hibbert Tupper, K.C., who will speak here on Friday evening. It has been arranged to take care of the crowd that is expected to be present by providing for an overflow meeting to be held. The meeting is to be held in the Alexandra Hall and the overflow will be taken care of in another part of the building.

The speakers are to appear at some Island points on the way here and on Saturday will speak at Sidney.

Constant Headaches and Dizziness

It is hard to struggle along with a head that aches and pains all the time, and in nine cases out of ten the persistent headaches are due to some derangement of the stomach, liver or bowels.

Undoubtedly the cause must be removed before permanent relief may be had.

Burdock Blood Bitters removes the cause of the headaches, as it acts on every organ of the body and strengthens, purifies and regulates the whole system.

Mrs. Peter Curran, 27 Morrison Street, Sydney, N.S., writes: "I have been troubled for the last five years with constant headaches and dizziness. After trying several remedies, which I found to be of no avail, Burdock Blood Bitters was recommended to me.

"B.B.B. did me a world of good, and I cannot praise this remedy enough."

Colonist Announcement Helps Pigeon Fancier To Locate Missing Bird

PARKSVILLE, April 30.—Owing to the recent announcement which appeared in the columns of The Colonist a few days ago, to the effect that Herbert Davis had rescued a pigeon, No. 547, V.H.S., 1922, in an exhausted condition, the bird has been returned to its owner, Mr. Thomas McLeod, of Ladysmith.

It had flown from Everett, Washington and, coming too far north, first landed in Nanaimo, where Mr. Taylor caught it and headed it for Ladysmith, but it again lost its bearings and came up as far as Parksville, young Davis catching and caring for it for over a week.

Mr. McLeod is delighted to have found it, as it is a most valuable little pigeon.

Provincial Chapter Holds Session Here

Opening Day of Eleventh Annual Meeting of Leading I.O.D.E. Branch Contains Many Reports of Great Interest, Showing Excellent Work Transacted During Past Twelve Months. Mrs. A. U. de Pencier Enthuses Members by Eloquent Address

WITH all the dignity and ceremony which attends the annual meeting of Provincial Chapter, I.O.D.E., the eleventh yearly session opened yesterday morning at Alexandra House, with a large attendance of members present, and Mrs. A. U. de Pencier in the chair. Mrs. Macdonald, wife of the official administrator, was on the platform at the opening ceremony, and attended the afternoon session.

Following the opening service, and after passing resolutions of loyalty to Their Majesties and to the Governor-General and Lady Byng, the cordial address of welcome was given to delegates from all over the Province by Mrs. Curtis Sampson in a charming little address, which was responded to by Mrs. Barton, of Chilliwack, on behalf of the delegates.

The ballroom of the Alexandra House presented a delightful setting for the session, the standards were draped on either side of the platform, and the floral decorations were carried out with masses of broom, and duronicums, in brass shells loaned for the occasion by the Red Cross Workshop. The decorations were carried out by Miss Pooley, Miss Matson and Miss Pemberton.

Mrs. Beck, Mrs. H. P. Hodges and Mrs. A. N. Mouat were appointed on the resolutions committee, and it was decided that the headquarters for Provincial Chapter for the coming year will be Victoria. The vote which decided the headquarters was carried by a large majority.

Twenty-five Provincial councillors were elected, Mr. Griffiths and Mr. Brett kindly acting as scrutineers, and the results will be announced at this morning's meeting.

Afternoon Session

Reports of Municipal Chapters, including Victoria, Vancouver, Chilliwack, Burnaby and Prince Rupert were read at the opening of the afternoon session, and the conciseness of the statements gave a splendid outline of the work carried out by the various cities.

Mrs. A. U. de Pencier delivered a stirring oration in her annual presidential address, which said in part:

President's Address

"I do not purpose at any length speaking of the work accomplished by the chapters in this Province. The various secretaries will give you detailed reports of the work. We are delighted to welcome several new chapters, and regret we have lost some, though we trust sometime many of these will again join our ranks and help forward our aims and ideals.

"It was a great help to me and a great pleasure to represent the Province and a large number of the chapters at the annual meeting in Quebec. When one has the privilege of meeting other leaders from all over the Dominion and discussing the work together, one finds that others have as great, if not greater, problems to solve as we have in British Columbia.

"I wish it could have been possible for me to visit all the chapters in the Province and get to know you all, but funds and time put such a thing quite out of reach. From what we hear and read we find that many have not yet grasped the true meaning of our War Memorial. As regards our War Memorial pictures, they are still often spoken of as war pictures, and people say we do not want them in our schools for our children to see, as they foster the war spirit. Let us strive to place before any who feel that way the truth and the fact: It is to cherish the memories of the brave men and women, too, who preserved our freedom and our liberties at so great a cost in the time of the Great War that we present the War Memorial pictures—lest we forget.

Bursaries Active

"Then, many do not seem to realize all the good the bursaries are doing. In this Province alone we have eight—surely we ought to strive to finish our objective as a special thank-offering for all the benefits we have received. All our chapters are, I know, doing faithful service under hard-working officers. May I suggest that as an organization we, everyone of us, try and become organizing and educational secretaries. By this, I mean try and teach to all we come in contact with, our aims and ideals—educate others and then they will want to be organized and help us on. I should like to take a few moments to review our aims and objects.

"Our motto is, 'One Flag, One Throne, One Empire.' Surely today, when we read in our papers letters saying Canadians do not wish to sing 'God Save the King,' and that we should not have it played in our theatres, etc., it behooves us to stand shoulder to shoulder, remembering the National Anthem is a prayer to God for our King, and we ought, I feel, to strive to teach everywhere loyalty both to young and old, remembering that our first object is 'to stimulate and give expression to the sentiment of patriotism which binds the women and children of the Empire, around the throne and person of their gracious and beloved sovereign.

Aims and Objects

"Another way of helping this forward is to teach others all about our flag and what it stands for—courage, purity and truth. Our second object, to supply and foster a bond of union amongst the women and children of our Empire. Let us study the problems which confront our Empire and strive to obtain a wider outlook than our own Province and Dominion.

"Our third object is to provide an efficient organization by which prompt and united action may be taken by the women and children of the Empire when such action may be desired. You all know what the Order did for our men and women during the Great War. I do not need to enlarge on this subject: 'To promote in the Motherland and in the Colonies the study of the history of the Empire and of current Imperial questions; to celebrate patriotic anniversaries; to cherish the memory of brave and heroic deeds, and the last resting place of our heroes and memorial stones on spots which have become sacred to the nation, either through great struggles for freedom or events of heroic and patriotic self-sacrifice.'"

Breadth of Vision

Mrs. de Pencier concluded with the following quotation:

"Keep us, O God, from pettiness; let us be large in thought, in word and in deed.

"Let us put away fault-finding and leave off self-seeking.

"May we put away pretence and meet each other face to face without self-pity and always generous.

"Teach us to put into action our better impulses, straightforward and unafraid.

"Grant us to see it is the little things in life that create differences, that in the big things we are one.

"May we strive to touch and to know the great woman's heart of us all, and O Lord God, let us not forget to be kind."

At the conclusion of the president's address sincere applause was given by the assembly, and Mrs. Curtis Sampson presented Mrs. de Pencier with a beautiful corsage bouquet.

Provincial Chapter Reports

Mrs. Frank Sehl, of Vancouver, in her report as secretary, after reviewing the secretarial work of the executive headquarters and the changes in personnel necessitated the past year, said:

"Two life memberships have been conferred this year in the National Chapter, also two Provincial, one Municipal and six Primaries.

"The Allies Chapter which did splendid work during the war has reorganized. Money was collected and forwarded to the National Japanese Fund, and a considerable sum has passed through our books for the Save the Children Fund. Amount of fees received during the year was $1,306.

Raised $46,655

"The register shows the following chapters under our jurisdiction: Six municipals, fifty-seven primaries under municipal, seven juniors under municipal, twenty-four isolated primaries, one isolated junior.

"The amount of money raised by chapters under municipal chapters during the year is $32,994.92, while isolated primaries have raised $13,660.11.

"Mrs. R. C. Boyle was appointed to act on the Y.W.C.A. committee on immigration, and Mrs. de Pencier, the provincial representative, on the League of Nations Society committee, and Mrs. T. P. Lake as provincial representative on the Girl Guides and Children's Chapters committee of the National Chapter. Miss Crease was appointed convener of the Alexandra Rose Day committee. Our president represented the Provincial Chapter at the National meeting in Quebec in June and gave a most inspiring report of the meeting at our quarterly meeting in Chilliwack.

"At the quarterly meeting in January a pleasing ceremony took place, when our president presented Mrs. Hasell, a very esteemed member of our order, with a purse of money, the gift of the members in British Columbia, prior to her departure for England, where she will make her home. The Provincial Chapter has become an ordinary corporate member of the League of Nations Society. In closing may I express my appreciation of the many kindnesses of the press."

Mrs. C. G. Pennock gave a thorough and comprehensive report in her capacity as treasurer and auditor, and was accorded a hearty vote of thanks for her splendid achievements in that position, which she undertook when Mrs. Lee resigned owing to her departure for England.

Educational Secretary's Report

The report of the educational secretary, presented by Mrs. O. L. Boynton, of Vancouver, was one of the outstanding features of the afternoon session. Mrs. Boynton stated that during the past year interest in the educational work of the order has increased considerably, and the Provincial Chapters had broken the record for I.O.D.E. book presentations. The total sum expended during the year for I.O.D.E. books and libraries amounted to $238.45, while $67.50 was devoted to purchasing pictures for schools and $2.75 for miscellaneous purchases, making a total of $308.70.

Mrs. Boynton continued: "One of our youngest chapters, the Delta, is the banner chapter for this particular work, with the Pauline Johnson, Vancouver, running a close second. Such increase in orders for books and pictures (repeatedly from the same chapter) is indication that they are most satisfactory; special thought and care in the selection of books, under approval of the Department of Education, is given with resulting satisfaction to chapters wishing to make presentations."

The educational secretary's report illustrated the work carried out in Vancouver, Victoria, New Westminster, Chilliwack, Burnaby, Nanaimo, Nelson, Grand Forks, Kaslo, Cowichan Station, Kelowna and Alert Bay. Mrs. Boynton also announced that "one hundred and sixty manuscripts were submitted for the Short Story competition, and thirty-nine for the One-Act Play competition. The judges of the short stories are Duncan Campbell Scott, of Ottawa; Mrs. J. C. Sims, of Montreal, and Prof. B. K. Sandwell, of Kingston. Each judge is reading the manuscripts, and they expect to collaborate in the choice of the winner and of those receiving honorable mention. The judges of the one-act play are Bertram Forsyth, Hart House; Fred Jacon and Henry Button, all of Toronto. It is hoped that it may be possible to have the prize play presented during the National annual meeting."

Mrs. Boynton spoke most highly of the far-reaching results of the conference held among educational secretaries last year, and a similar meeting will take place this morning, at 9:30 o'clock, to which all educational secretaries and delegates from chapters where no one else can attend are invited to be present to take back the discussions and information gained from the meeting.

Miss Jessie Peterson, Zealandia, Sask., writes: "I wish to let you know how much good Milburn's Heart and Nerve Pills have done for me.

"For nearly three years I was very badly run down, had a weak heart, and was so nervous that sometimes I would almost faint away.

"I heard of many people who had recommended your Heart and Nerve Pills, so I decided to give them a trial. After I had used two boxes I found they had done me good, and after having taken five boxes I was completely relieved.

"I cannot recommend your Pills enough, and I would advise anyone having a weak heart or troubled with nervousness to use them."

Men to Whom Motorists Tell Their Tire Experience Say All-Weather Cord Gives 27.5% More Miles Than Any Other Tire

AUTOMOBILE DEALERS hear thousands and thousands of tire experiences. Their owners praise or denounce the tires they are using. Prospective purchasers tell of the tire service they've had. Cars come in for service regularly and their mileage is noted. And the automobile dealer is unprejudiced, because his chief interest in tires is to have the cars which he sells make a good showing on tire mileage.

3 out of 4 say Goodyear All-Weather Best

We asked 243 automobile dealers if they thought Goodyear All-Weather Cords gave more mileage and if so, how much more than the next best. 74% said Goodyear All-Weather Cords gave most miles—and the average estimate gave them a greater mileage by 27.5% than the next best tire. Another 22% said All-Weather Cords are the equal of any tire. Only 9 out of 243 think any tire excels the Goodyear All-Weather.

What Other Car Dealers Say

"There is no question about the Goodyear All-Weather Cord Tire giving greater mileage and more real service than any other cord tire on the market today. I have kept a close check to see the mileage they give my customers."

"Goodyear All-Weather Cords are dependable, and I believe they will give longer service than any other tire."

"Our experience proves them better than others."

"We cannot say too much for Goodyear Cord Tires, as they have given big mileage and service."

POST-WAR ECONOMICS

A letter, remarkable for its "plain speaking," appears in a recent issue of The London Times on the aims of political parties generally and on the fallacy of "the new world," which it was hoped would be created as a result of the Great War. It is from the pen of Mr. P. E. Roberts. In what he says there is a lesson for all politicians, as well as for the publics of different countries. The letter is obviously inspired by the allusions made by speakers at the conference of the League of Nations Union on unemployment to some of the "unpleasant" realities in the field of economics. After the war, Mr. Roberts maintains the only possible way of salvation lay in everyone putting up with less emolument (whether earned or unearned), in harder work, in being content with fewer of the amenities of life, until, after twenty or thirty years, something like the old prosperity was again established. This was the one fact that no one would face. An attempt was made to face it by the Bonar Law Government, but that administration was attacked from all sides because it did not pretend to have a specific for a new heaven and a new earth.

Mr. Roberts points out that the determination of the people, and of the politicians as well, was that the loss and damage of the war could be charmed away by adroit legislation, by State interference, or, in the last resort, by the simple expedient of denying that two and two make four. The political creeds of most parties, he says, "are a gorgeous medley of mutual incompatibilities." Ever since 1914 the British people have been conducted by their political leaders down an endless vista of fool's paradises. This is the explanation, Mr. Roberts claims, why hardly any party makes the least attempt, when in office, to fulfil the promises of which it has been so lavishly prodigal when in opposition. Mr. Roberts points a moral from the example of Mr. Winston Churchill, in saying that one result of the pleasing confusion of aims is that men may approach the citadel of office by diametrically opposite routes. Mr. Churchill is now the great opponent of Socialism. As a member of the Coalition Government, he was jointly responsible for that mass of "uneconomic legislation" which surrendered the whole basis of individualism. He never made any kind of protest against confiscatory death duties, the excess profits tax, and the Rent Restriction Act.

Mr. Roberts quotes another example of the medley of ideas that prevails. Mr. Asquith, he says, has just been pointing out that Mr. Wheatley's Rent Bill "has for the first time introduced what he considered as an iniquitous and insidious principle." The principle to which he alludes is that of directly attacking one class of investors. According to Mr. Roberts, the difference between Mr. Wheatley's Act and the Rent Restriction Act is only one of degree and the former is, in one sense, only the logical outcome of the latter. "The condemnation of the Coalition," says Mr. Roberts, "is the greater, for they sinned against the light. The light of the Labor Party in this matter has always been, economically speaking, the frankest and most impenetrable darkness." In such matters, it appears, none of the politicians would listen to the orthodox economists because modern conception has it that they are back numbers. These orthodox men are not concerned with the "pretentious insincerity which catches votes but ruins nations."

What Mr. Roberts wants to show, as far as Britain is concerned, is that the pious resolution to avoid the unpleasant has led to a maze of contradiction. "Statesmen," he says, "cannot stir a step to realize one promise without entangling themselves in the wreckage of another. It is admitted that a lowering of taxation is absolutely essential, and yet any economy that involves some sacrifice of social service—and all economies must do that—is denounced as soulless. The great engine of production must be kept at full power, and capitalists are urged by politicians to supply it with the funds of which the excess profits tax has deprived them. Those who have money to invest are driven to gilt-edged securities rather than industrials through the weakness of the Government in controlling organized Labor and the apparent determination of Labor to bring down profits to the minimum. We choose this particular moment for granting to the Universities those endowments which, at the time of our greatest prosperity, we professed ourselves unable to afford. The Universities must be accessible to everyone and therefore the fees must be low; but, on the other hand, professors must now receive such emoluments as we have long desired, but have hitherto not been able to give them, and therefore tuition fees must be put up. The State, therefore, must provide large grants for scholarships; but the State, alas! is only ourselves writ large, and these grants will increase the pressure of taxation and local rates on the poor professional man who desires to send his son to the Universities. What he gains on the swings he will only lose on the roundabouts." There is a lot of sound economic truth in what Mr. Roberts says about this "post-war world of idealism, untempered by common sense."

BRITAIN'S BUDGET

There is this to be said in praise of Britain's first Labor Budget and that is it reduces taxation to the extent of £34,000,000 for the present year. This saving is effected, in part, by the proposed abolition of the McKenna duties on imports. By this move the tariff of 33 1-3 per cent on foreign films, motor cars, motor cycles, clocks, watches and musical instruments will disappear and these commodities may be imported duty free and therefore come into direct competition with the British manufactures. The Budget proposals, therefore, are regarded as a heavy blow to the British motor industry, which, under the system of protection that has been maintained for some years, was growing very satisfactorily. The Chancellor of the Exchequer, by what he proposes, shows conclusively that official Labor is opposed to Protection and in what he is doing he is running the risk of aggravating the unemployment situation.

Apart from the reduction of the duties mentioned the Budget might well have been prepared by the Liberals. The corporation profits tax is being abolished. There are to be reductions in the duties on sugar, tea, cocoa, coffee, chicory and dried fruits. The Labor Party should have no difficulty in carrying these reductions throught the House of Commons, but there will be a stiff fight over the proposal to abolish the McKenna tariffs. Criticism will be levelled at the Budget because there has been no reduction in income tax and supertax, and particularly because there is to be no change in postal rates. Those in authority have been deaf to the many entreaties for a return to penny postage, although its benefits would touch practically every individual in the country. On the whole the Budget is a tame document, purposely made tame so that the Labor Government can continue its tenure of office.

APPRENTICESHIP SYSTEM

The committee which inquired into Britain's housing problem at the request of the Government has recommended that Parliament should sanction the expenditure for a building programme extending over fifteen years, and with a total maximum number of 2,500,000 new working-class houses. One of the most interesting points in connection with this proposal is a scheme of apprenticeship for supplying the deficiency in skilled labor in the building trades. It is recommended that apprentices be accepted up to 20 years of age and that they shall serve for four years, except that, in exceptional circumstances, they may apply to pass a test as qualified craftsmen after three years' training. The scale of payment recommended for apprentices ranges from 40 per cent of the journeymen's wages at first to 85 per cent in the eighth period of six months. The report is a recognition of the value of the apprenticeship system as the only method for the making of skilled workmen.

UNCLEAN BEACHES

The complaints of garbage littering the beaches off Dallas Road are perennial, yet nothing ever seems to be done. The trouble lies in the method of garbage disposal that is employed, and it should be within the power of the City Council to regulate this so that such disposal takes place on an outgoing tide. In addition, the garbage scows should be taken far enough out to sea to insure that their contents will not litter the city's coastline. Whoever is the responsible authority should be instructed to see to it that the beaches are cleaned up and kept clean. They are an asset to the community, but very often a reproach as well because of their dirty condition.

Secret diplomacy has enshrouded the negotiations now proceeding between a Soviet delegation and the British Government in the matter of adjusting financial and trade relationships between Britain and Russia. The Soviet delegates are not plenipotentiaries. They have to refer everything to Moscow, and really all they are concerned in doing is to make the British Government aware that they want enormous and impossible credits while their claim is that the Soviet Government has a conception of what Russia already owes to Britain that is quite removed from the British idea on the same subject. It is exceedingly doubtful if Premier MacDonald and his colleagues will interpret aright the attitude of Britain in the present negotiations, the delicacy of which is illustrated by the Labor policy of secret diplomacy.

Note and Comment

By R. B. D.

A reader of The Colonist (one of many thousands, of course) is in a quandary. O Provincial general election is approaching, and he hardly knows what to do with his vote. He says, furthermore, that there are thousands like him.

* * *

This is a very serious state of affairs. It is a state of affairs which is only too prevalent, and it is applicable to more things than Provincial party politics. There are too many voters in this country who cannot make up their minds how to vote. We have them in this city and they have them in almost every other city in Canada. The returns after a Dominion general election prove that there are too many voters everywhere who cannot make up their minds how to vote. Are they afraid that conscience may convict them of indefensible acts? Well, we all make mistakes. Many voters throughout the ages doubtless have sinned in casting their votes; but the fact that they discharged their duties according the the light vouchsafed them at the time should absolve them of all moral responsibility.

* * *

Surveying the political field at the present time, we feel that we also are going to have some difficulty in casting our votes. There is going to be a multitude of candidates in the field seeking the suffrages of the people. None of them is likely to be as independent in his attitude as Coriolanus, who went forth into public places and told the democracy of his day what he thought of it. Every one of those candidates will appeal to an intelligent and incorruptible electorate.

* * *

Our correspondent says he finds that personal antipathies are likely to influence him in casting his vote. We would advise him not to permit anything of that kind to divert his judgment. We are going to vote for men who seem most likely to give us honest, economical, stable and progressive government. We are not going to permit anything of a personal nature to divert us from that purpose, which we believe to be a patriotic duty. The condition of affairs in places where there is not stable government should be a lesson to all voters.

* * *

Other parts of Canada have been experimenting with governments. They have been trying something new, something entirely different from anything in the way of governments that has gone before, and their experience has been very costly indeed. We must put men in charge of our public affairs who know something about the way in which public affairs should be conducted. We cannot afford to try experiments in state affairs of vital importance. The average public man is not nearly as black as he is sometimes painted by his opponents or by the critic on the streets. He is just an average man so far as honesty and integrity are concerned. We are going to keep these facts in mind when polling day comes, and vote as judgment directs us.

Mr. William Randolph Hearst is mortgaging his many publications, newspapers and magazines in many parts of the United States for twelve million dollars. That is an interesting announcement, but it is not nearly so interesting to us as the fact that a contributor to the Hearst publications writes and tells the public that he considers the securities so sound an investment that he purposes putting two hundred thousand dollars of his own money in them and advises others to put all the money they can scrape together in them. Never in our most extravagant imaginings did we conceive of the possibility of any writer for the newspapers accumulating such a pile of dollars. Hope springs anew in our optimistic breast. We may yet live to see the day when real talent shall be appreciated by the business office!

Certain authorities on political, economic and social questions, some of the said authorities discharging their daily duties next door to us, maintain that the truth has not been told by the capitalist press and by people representing capitalistic interests about the condition of affairs in Russia. Possibly not; but is it not a somewhat remarkable thing that there has been no particular rush of emigrants to that delectable land? Even the persons who believe the things they imagine about Russia, and preach about the great emancipation and the wonders it has accomplished for the benefit of the people, do not seem to be in any hurry to go there and share in the unexampled felicity of the Russian people. Occasionally a dispatch is printed in the capitalistic press about the summary execution of a score or so of Russians under the free institutions that have been set us. We wonder whether those dispatches sometimes raise doubts in the minds of those panters after "liberty, equality and fraternoty" as politically practised in Russia?

A boy of seventeen drove a motor car furiously through a crowded Seattle street. He killed a man and will be charged with manslaughter. He had been drinking what is known as moonshine whisky, purveyed, of course, by a vendor of illicit liquor, more dangerous than poison, because a menace to the safety and the lives of others besides the consumer of the stuff. Such instances of the effects of Prohibition in the United States are printed in the newspapers almost every day.

Henry Ford has a balance of two or three hundred millions in the banks, and yet, instead of taking one of his flivvers and going out to have a good time, secure in the knowledge that he never will need an old age pension, he is intriguing to obtain possession of Muscle Shoals, upon which the United States Gvernment has spent hundreds of millions. Yes, the poet was quite right: the most interesting study of mankind is man.

Canada's Story Day by Day

By Blodwen Davies

April 30

On this day in 1623, over three centuries ago, there was born to the noble family of Montmorency, in France, a child destined to carve out for himself an amazing career in the New World, then just on the verge of settlement. He was the priest known to Canadian history as Laval, first bishop of New France. Laval was the third son, and chose the church as a career. His two older brothers died while he was still studying and he became heir to an ancient title and magnificent estates. In spite of all pressure, he renounced his rights to a younger brother and devoted himself to religion. He came first to Canada in 1659, lived a life of poverty and self-denial, helping in the nursing of contagious diseases in the hospitals and sharing in arduous lives of the colonists. He was inflexible regarding what he believed to be the rights of his church and was bitterly opposed to the sale of liquor to Indians, and lived for many years in friction with the government. There has been a movement on foot for years for his canonization.

AFTER SUNSET

The vast and solemn company of clouds
Around the Sun's death, lit, incarnadined,
Cool into ashy wan, as Night enshrouds
The level pasture, creeping up behind
Through voiceless vales, o'er lawn and purpled hill
And hazed mead, her mystery to fulfil.
Cows low from far-off farms; the loitering wind
Sighs in the hedge, you hear it if you will—
Tho' all the wind, alive atop with wings
Lifting and sinking through the leafy nooks,
Seethes with the clamor of a thousand rooks.
Now every sound at length is hush'd away.
These few are sacred moments. One more day
Drops in the shadowy gulf of bygone things.
—William Allingham.

By the Way—

(Copyright, 1924, North American Newspaper Alliance.)

MANY people think that worms can come down in a rain. They see many of these wrigglers on sidewalks, etc., after a Summer shower and jump to this erroneous conclusion. The time-worn superstition has been dispelled by scientific investigation. The truth of the matter is that the worms are near the surface of the earth and are uncovered and washed hither and thither by the heavy showers.

Mysteries of the Lowly Angleworm

According to Prof. Dietrich Lange, American naturalist, the earthworm is one of nature's rainy-day children, and can only travel about in wet weather. He says an earthworm can not cross a dry or dusty road. Their favorite time to crawl about is on a rainy night in Spring or Summer. At the approach of daylight they go back to earth, except those that are lost and bewildered on paved walks and roads.

The angleworm has neither eyes nor ears, but in spite of these drawbacks it knows enough to find food and shelter. Worms do not go deep in the ground in the Winter. They couldn't if they wanted to. They are coiled up comparatively near the surface and allow themselves to freeze, coming to life again in the Spring.

IMPROVEMENT SHOWN AT LAMPSON STREET

School Inspector Stewart Favorably Comments Upon Principal Campbell's Methods

A decided improvement in the Lampson Street School since Mr. Harold Campbell assumed the principalship has been shown, stated the report of School Inspector J. C. Stewart, that was dealt with by Esquimalt school trustees at their monthly meeting in Lampson Street School on Tuesday night, which was presided over by Chairman George Sisman.

The trustees expressed themselves as well pleased with the report, and described it as being very satisfactory. Inspector Stewart commented favorably upon Principal Campbell's knowledge of the individual capacities and progress of the pupils, and the improvements which had been effected in the organization of the school by him and the instruction given by each of the teachers.

The Board decided that the Esquimalt school children would not enter any float this year in the Victoria Day parade.

Leave of absence for four days was granted Miss MacNaughton, a member of the teaching faculty at Lampson Street School, who is going to Vancouver in May to take part in the Church Choirs' Festival there.

A Protest

Sir,—I should like to strongly protest against the production of such a picture which is now showing in one of our local theatres as that of a dog climbing a ladder. Anyone who has any regard for the feelings of dumb creatures cannot but strongly resent such pitiable cruelty, and surely the warm-hearted Victorian public will show this resentment by hissing such a picture, or otherwise show its disapproval. I would only ask anyone with any imagination at all to note the unmistakable expression of suffering on the wretched dog's face.

Foot and Mouth Disease

Sir,—The United States Department of Agriculture appointed a committee to investigate diseases of cattle, and the report of this committee is regarded as the most authentic information on the various diseases which has so far been published. The revised edition of their report issued 1923, describing foot and mouth disease, says as follows:

"The tremendous ravages of the disease are seen in the number and variety of the species attacked. While it may be regarded as essentially a disease of cattle, hogs would seem to be as easy a prey. Almost in the same grade of receptivity are sheep and goats. Next in order of susceptibility come the buffalo, American bison, camel, chamois, lama, giraffe, and antelope. Horses, dogs, cats and even poultry may occasionally become infected with the disease, the last three being particularly dangerous as carriers. Man himself is not immune and the frequency of his infection by coming in contact with diseased animals is established by numerous observations.

"A wide distribution of the virus and a rapid infection of a herd is the result. Animals may be infected directly as by licking, and in calves as well pleased with the report, and described it as being very satisfactory. Inspector Stewart commented favorably upon Principal Campbell's knowledge of the individual capacities and progress of the pupils, and by sucking, or indirectly by such things as infected manure, hay, utensils, drinking troughs, railway cars, animal markets, barnyards and pastures. Human beings may carry virus on their shoes and clothing and transmit it on their hands when milking. It may also be carried by dogs, cats, rats, chickens, pigeons, etc. Milk in a raw state may also transmit the disease to animals fed with it."

Foot and mouth disease has appeared in the U.S. on seven different occasions, 1870, 1880, 1884, 1902, 1908, 1914 and 1924. The first attacks were not serious and were quickly stamped out. In 1902 3,872 cattle, 360 hogs, 220 sheep and goats were slaughtered. It cost $300,000 to stamp out the pest. In 1908, it cost nearly $500,000 to stamp out; 3,626 animals were slaughtered. In 1914, the pest spread into twenty-two states, 172,720 animals (76,576 cattle, 56,492 swine, 9,511 sheep, 133 goats and nine deer in 3,482 herds), valued at $5,300,000, were slaughtered. It cost the Federal Government $4,540,000 to stamp out. In the present attack, up to and including Saturday, April 26, 68,744 animals have been slaughtered, according to official report.

The spread of this disease into British Columbia would be a serious menace to dairying, beef ranching, and sheep raising. These are the backbone of the agricultural industry in this Province. Can we afford to take any chances by admitting any animal until the disease is stamped out in California? The farmers feel very strongly on the matter. Are their interests to be sacrificed to allow race horses to be brought into this country for a brief period of amusement? It is undoubtedly true that the horses are seldom affected, but from the authorities quoted, there is a certain amount of danger not only from the horses, but from fodder, box cars, and similar carriers, and until the danger is past, common sense advises to shun the danger.

SALES TAX SOUGHT ON ROAD SPRAYER

Lawyers Differ as to Classification of Machine Made for Saanich Municipality—Judgment Reserved

In the County Court yesterday the trial of Rex vs. Hafer was heard by Judge Lampman. The action is one brought to recover the amount of the sales tax on a road spraying machine that was bought by Saanich from the Hafer company. The amount claimed is $112.50. In view of the fact that the defendant company billed the municipality with the amount of the tax claimed the municipality was added as a party to the case. The evidence was heard by the judge but he reserved judgment in the case. His honor, on the conclusion of the taking of evidence, wished to know why this matter was not referred to the Exchequer Court as it was supposed to know all about matters of this kind. Mr. M. B. Jackson, K.C., who appeared for the Crown, explained that it was a matter of cost that had prompted the course taken.

The sprayer, it was shown, cost $2,500, to which was added the amount of the sales tax now that this was sought to be collected.

Mr. H. B. Robertson, K.C., for the municipality of Saanich, contended that the transaction was not a sale. The municipality had furnished the engine and the chassis, and that the Hafer company had assembled on it the machine used. The municipality simply paid for work done and material furnished, and it could not be described as manufactured goods.

Mr. Jackson contended that this was all nonsense. There had been a direct contract for a machine and this had been furnished and a bill rendered for the machine complete. The use of an old chassis did not alter the situation.

Mr. D. A. McLean, K.C., appeared on behalf of the Hafer company, and watched the proceedings.

Yu are hearbe notified that iff yu gaw latn these diggens yu will hatch hell. Now yu hed beter ink ought or yull emel powder an brimstans, if not hemp." Well, if the "Jahnerman" don't understand that "notise" they can't be blamed. It would puzzle an Englishman.

The women of Olympia are after the saloons. The Courier says that they asked permission to pray in Frag's saloon on Sunday, but he declined, telling them that he was selling liquor and not keeping a church. C. Burmeister gave them the permission desired, and they promised to go and avail themselves of it. What the result was we have not heard.

Serenade—Last night Schaffer's band serenaded Mr. Janion at the residence of Mr. Henry Rhodes, afterwards visited The Colonist office, discouraging delightful music on both occasions.

Science vs. Chance

The difference between the modern ophthalmic specialist and the old haphazard method of "buying glasses" is very great. In the old days the barber "pulled teeth," but his methods were far from the highly specialized, conservation service rendered by the dentist today.

Our own specialized practice is just as advanced over the crude, ready-made glasses as the dental specialist is over the old tooth extracting barber's methods. Yet fees today in this public practice are as low as the so-called stock glasses, which are sometimes sold even yet.

The Rev. Dr. Campbell conducted the service, and the hymns sung were "Jesus, Lover of My Soul," and "Peace, Perfect Peace." Mr. J. Howcroft, a personal friend, presided at the organ. The casket and hearse were covered with a profusion of beautiful floral offerings, showing the esteem in which the late Mr. Cates was held by his many friends. Comox Valley Pioneer Passes to Long Rest

COURTENAY, April 30. — Mr. Gabriel Joyce, who was in his eightieth year, passed away at his home on the Cumberland Road, near Courtenay, Monday morning. About a year ago he suffered a stroke of paralysis, which left him feeble. He has been a resident of the district for thirty years, having mostly followed the calling of an agriculturist. Among his friends he was affectionately known as "Grandad," and was liked by all who knew him. He was a native of the County of Berkshire, in England, which he left when a young man. He had made several trips to his old home during his residence in this district. To mourn his loss he leaves a widow, who lives in Cumberland, and Mr. Albert Joyce, of Courtenay, a son; also a daughter, Mrs. Millett, of Seattle, Wash.

SCOUTS PARADE

COURTENAY, April 30.—Under the leadership of Scoutmaster J. Frank-Franklin and Assistant Scoutmaster H. V. Collins, the First Troop Courtenay Boy Scouts paraded to St. John's Anglican Church Sunday evening. Both the Boy Scouts and the detachment of Wolf Cubs, led by Cubmaster Stanley Venables, assembled at their new quarters at the Agriculutral Hall, whence they marched to church, a distance of half a mile. The special service was conducted by Rev. J. W. Flinton. Appreciable improvement is already noticeable in the general bearing and smartness of the boys and the cubs.

CLAIMS MINISTERS PLAY POLITICS

Hon. T. G. Coventry Says Hon. J. D. MacLean and Hon. E. D. Barrow Deliberately Twisted Information on Race Horse Negotiations to Suit Their Own Purposes in Campaign—Defends Dr. Tolmie From Charge of Favoritism

HON. T. G. COVENTRY, managing director of the Victoria Park Racing Association, issued a statement last night, accusing Hon. E. D. Barrow, Minister of Agriculture, and Hon. J. D. MacLean, Provincial Secretary, of attempting to make a political issue of the negotiations seeking entry of Tijuana race horses into British Columbia this Summer.

Mr. Coventry's statement was based on a story given out yesterday afternoon by Dr. MacLean, charging Mr. Coventry and Dr. S. F. Tolmie, Federal member for Victoria, with an attempt to get Federal action authorizing the entry of the horses, contrary to the advice of provincial veterinarians.

"The provincial ministers apparently wish to create the impression that both Dr. Tolmie and I are trying to override provincial experts, as well as public opinion, and that Dr. Tolmie has shown undue interest in these negotiations in my behalf. I may say for my part that I approached Dr. Tolmie merely as one of his constituents, and Dr. Tolmie, in presenting my views to the Federal authorities, did no more than might be expected of a man holding his position. So far as Dr. Tolmie and I are concerned, there has been no politics in this matter whatever. I am convinced that if the dairymen or anyone who might hold different views on the subject from mine had made representations to Dr. Tolmie he would have shown just as much interest.

Avoided Politics

"When I conferred with Mr. Barrow regarding this question I was extremely careful to point out that we had no desire to make it a political issue. I asked that the question be considered on its merits alone. I pointed out that my associates were all wealthy men and that even if we were forced to cancel the race meet altogether no serious handicap would be entailed; but I emphasized that horsemen would be deprived of their legitimate livelihood if such a thing happened, and that, unless it could be shown beyond a doubt that the importation of horses from Tijuana would really endanger the cattle industry, our plans should not be interfered with.

"I was told quite clearly by Mr. Barrow that the veterinary surgeons who had reported on the matter had said there was little danger of introducing the foot and mouth disease if the horses were brought in.

"In spite of our efforts to keep this out of politics, it must be perfectly obvious to anyone that Mr. Barrow, in making his declaration at Chilliwack that he would oppose the entry of the horses, was trying to make political capital in his own riding, which is a dairying constituency and close to the international boundary. When I talked with Mr. Barrow I acted in perfectly good faith and had no hesitation in telling him what I had done to facilitate the entry of the horses. Now I charge Mr. Barrow and Dr. MacLean with deliberately turning this information around to suit their own political purposes.

"On Mr. Barrow's own say-so, as reported in The Times of April 28, there would be little danger of the disease spreading as a result of bringing in the horses. Tijuana is not within 150 miles of a foot and mouth disease outbreak and it has been proven by experts that horses do not carry the germs to anything like the extent that some other animals do.

"As to Dr. Tolmie's knowledge of livestock and health of animals, I think all of us will agree that he is probably as well posted as any man on the continent, and that any criticism of Dr. Tolmie on those lines will only be ridiculed by thinking people, particularly when it is realized he personally owns a very valuable dairy herd himself.

"So far as I am concerned, I would not have entered into any controversy on this matter were it not that Dr. Tolmie's name has been introduced in a party political way. I have simply shown that there is not, and cannot be, any politics in the question, and if the controversy should continue I propose to have nothing further to say."

TELLS DYSPEPTICS WHAT TO EAT

Avoid Indigestion, Sour, Acid Stomach, Heartburn, Gas on Stomach, Etc.

Indigestion and practically all forms of stomach trouble, say medical authorities, are due nine times out of ten, to an excess of hydrochloric acid in the stomach. Chronic "acid stomach" is exceedingly dangerous, and sufferers should do either one of two things.

Either they can go on a limited and often disagreeable diet, avoiding foods that disagree with them, that irritate the stomach and lead to excess acid secretion, or they can eat as they please in reason and make it a practice to counteract the effect of the harmful acid and prevent the formation of gas, sourness or premature fermentation by the use of a little Bisurated Magnesia at their meals.

There is probably no better, safer or more reliable stomach antacid than Bisurated Magnesia, and it is widely used for this purpose. It has no direct action on the stomach and is not a digestant. But a teaspoonful of the powder or a couple of five-grain tablets taken in a little water with the food will neutralize the excess acidity which may be present and prevent its further formation. This removes the whole cause of the trouble and the meal digests naturally and healthfully without need of pepsin pills or artificial digestants.

Get a few ounces of Bisurated Magnesia from any reliable druggist. Ask for either powder or tablets. It never comes as a liquid, milk or citrate, and in the bisurated form is not a laxative. Try this plan and eat what you want at your next meal and see if this isn't the best advice you ever had on "what to eat." (Advt.)

BIG CROWDS HEAR EVANGELIST PRICE

Much Interest Is Shown at Meetings —Will Not Hold Services Saturday—Altar Call Appeals

Close to 5,000 people attended the Rev. Dr. Charles Price's revival meeting last night at the Arena. His sermon for the night was on "The Promises of God," and was very well received. The evangelist held his audience to a high point of interest and his "Altar Call" was answered by close to a hundred people. Several of Victoria's prominent ministers were present at his meeting, and interest appears to be running high.

Dr. Price in his announcements stated that his meetings, both afternoon and evening, would continue to be held at the same time with the exception of Saturday, when the evangelist will rest for the day. His next healing meeting will be held on Friday night next, with the usual preparatory service Friday afternoon after the regular service. On Sunday he will hold two meetings in the afternoon and evening, and expects to have a crowded house.

POLICE BATTER WAY THROUGH HEAVY DOOR

Ten Chinese Opium Smokers Captured in Early Evening Raid in Chinatown

Ten Chinamen, some of them said to be under the influence of opium, were taken in a police raid carried out early last evening on quarters on the third floor of 549 Fisgard Street by Sergeant Florence and Constables Lawson and McPherson, of the Victoria police department. Accused were brought to the Fisgard Street Station and were released on bail of $50 each to appear in police court this morning.

Investigations of the police department had indicated that opium-smoking was going on in the Fisgard Street joint, and when Sergeant Florence led the raid last night word had been received that the room was doing a "fine" business. Taught by experience, the officers carried axes and steel sledges and when they arrived at the door, which barred entrance to the "hop" quarters, the instruments were the only means of gaining entrance. It took fifteen minutes of husky axe work to batter a way through the door, which had been reinforced on the inside with four-inch square timbers set close together.

Besides the ten inmates, a small quantity of the drug was seized and a number of half-burned pipes, the smokers having stuffed the smoking paraphernalia into a stove when the raid started.

OAK BAY FINDS IT CANNOT BACK MOVE

Request for Financial Aid in Memorial Avenue Development Reaches Council Too Late

The Oak Bay Council has decided that it cannot enter into the Memorial Avenue Scheme, as suggested by the Chamber of Commerce and Victoria City Council, as the application from these bodies for the $500 contribution which they sought from Oak Bay for this purpose was received much too late, the district having set its estimate for the year and affixed the tax rate. The general feeling of the councillors was that if Oak Bay was ever going to take part in any way with a memorial to those who fell in the Great War, it would construct it in the municipality, and that it would take the form of a structure, rather than an avenue of trees.

Reeve Hewlett, the Oak Bay delegate to the conference of the four municipalities in respect to greater co-operation between these districts, stated that the city clearly understood that the three outside municipalities were opposed to any amalgamation with Victoria, but that they would be willing to co-operate in all matters of mutual and joint interest.

It was thought likely that some definite action would be taken in respect to the appointment of a ratepayer in Oak Bay to occupy the vacant post on the Municipal Council until the end of the year. The matter, however, was not considered.

The Council's health committee submitted a report, which will be laid before the next conference of representatives from Victoria and the three other municipalities. The chief recommendation was that Oak Bay would be willing to pay in future the cost of any resident of the district in the Isolation Hospital, providing that the said person had been vaccinated, and the doctor had been notified immediately following the outbreak of the infectious disease. Oak Bay, however, will not pay the cost at the Isolation Hospital of any unvaccinated person from the municipality.

ROYAL OAK NEWS

ROYAL OAK, April 30.—The Saanich War Memorial Health Centre was the rendezvous of a large party of delegates of the Daughters of the Empire, who are in Victoria for their annual provincial convention. An invitation to view Canada's first war memorial health centre was extended to the visiting ladies by Mrs. C. A. Lucas, superintendent, who explained very fully the various activities of the centre. Great interest was evinced in the equipment and material used for the instruction of the Little Mothers' League and home nursing classes, and admiration for the charming and well-kept interior of the centre was expressed. Mrs. Lucas explained the wideness of the territory covered by her assistant nurses and the methods used for covering it. Hearty appreciation of the hospitality extended them was expressed by the visitors before leaving on the return trip to Victoria.

A treat is in store for members and friends of the Women's Auxiliary of the Saanich Health Centre on May 14, when Mrs. J. H. Oldfield is extending the hospitality of her lovely home, "Norfolk Lodge," Elk Lake. The grounds are at the height of their beauty at this time of the year, and will be an added attraction to the regular meeting at 2:30 o'clock, and the silver tea which follows from 3 to 5 o'clock.

Miss Rosalind Pease has returned to Vancouver after spending the Easter vacation with her parents, Mr. and Mrs. A. Pease, Hamsterley Lakeside.

Mr. and Mrs. A. T. Hodgson are expected to Deer Lodge, Elk Lake, this week, having left Long Beach, California, early last week, en route home by motor car.

SEEK BIGGER HALL FOR ARION CLUB CONCERT

Programme Tonight Will Be Given in Victoria High School Instead of Empress Ballroom

By their heavy demand for tickets, crowded out of their usual auditorium, the Empress ballroom, the Arion Club is seeking the bigger accommodation of the Victoria High School for its concert this evening. The programme offers a great deal of interest, and even the inconvenience of the greater distance will undoubtedly find the place packed to the doors. As will be seen from the following, the entire second part of the programme will be taken up with the beautiful work of Felicien David, "The Desert," a symphonic ode in three parts. The Victoria Symphony orchestra will play in this.

Following is the programme in detail: Part I—"Recessional," R. Huntington Woodman; "Three Flies," R. Barrett; "Petite Suite" (orchestral number), Coleridge Taylor; "Sands of Dee," E. H. Russell; "Ode to March," C. Waring Stebbins. Part II—"The Desert" (symptomic ode in three parts), Felicien David.

PIANO RECITAL IS PLEASING AFFAIR

Miss Bonshor Shows Promising Artistry in Programme at Victoria Club

Miss Bonshor, a very earnest and sincere young musician who seems to require only a little more self-assurance and confidence to win her recognition as one of Victoria's most promising pianists, appeared on Tuesday evening in her first recital. The affair took place at the Victoria Club, Campbell Building, where a highly appreciative audience listened to her thoughtful playing of the beautiful Adagio and Allegro movements of the Beethoven "Sonata Pathetique," a number which brought out the very finest elements of an art which is already intuitively rich and supported by an excellent technique. Other numbers in her programme confirmed the impressions gained from the hearing of this composition, the Schumann "Traumes Wirren," the clear delicacy of two Greig numbers, the Nevin "Tournament." Mrs. Cunningham, on behalf of the Unity Club, presented the gifted pianist with a beautiful bouquet of flowers in the course of the evening.

Assisting in the recital were several other Victorians of able talent: Mrs. Hawthornthwaite, violinist, who played two groups of numbers, including the Gounod "Ave Maria"; Mrs. Ross and Miss Henley, elocutionists; and Miss Blakeway, soprano, and Col. Symonds. The audience obviously enjoyed all these contributions.

Mr. Hawthornthwaite, who presided as chairman, opened the proceedings with some reminiscences which were appropriate to the occasion. The platform was charmingly decorated with laurel, laurestina and wild hyacinths.

"MAIDEN MONTHS" TO BE PRESENTED AGAIN

Pageant Composed on Donald Fraser's Poem to Be Given at Christ Church Schoolroom

The very successful pageant illustrating the beautiful poem, "The Maiden Months," by Donald A. Fraser, which was given Tuesday night in the First Presbyterian Church, will be repeated on Friday, May 2, at 8 p.m. in Christ Church Sunday School, Quadra Street, in aid of the Fairfield Troop of Boy Scouts.

For the concert on Friday most of the musical numbers are changed. Solos will be sung by Mr. Bryant and Mrs. Godson, and Miss Bradshaw will delight her audience with her violin.

The pageant has been arranged by Mrs. McKillop, leader of the Pas-a-Pas Bible Class. Mr. Fraser appears as the poet and reads his own verse. The Spirit of Poetry (Miss Jean Menzies) causes his thoughts to materialize before him in a series of well-worked out tableaux.

Mr. Jack Smith will play the opening overture and will also accompany the tableaux with suitable music.

Another Outbreak of Smallpox in Ontario

SAULT STE. MARIE, Ont., April 30.—With the announcement that eight new cases of smallpox have been discovered in the district tributary to the Soo, Dr. W. H. Johnston, district health officer, makes an appeal for continuance of compulsory vaccination of school children.

SARNIA, Ont., April 30.—It is understood that steps are being taken by a number of citizens opposed to compulsory vaccination for smallpox in the schools, to call a public meeting to protest against the action. Notice has been given that unvaccinated children will not be permitted to attend school. It is said that a test case may be demanded in the courts.

CAPITOL THEATRE "Under the Red Robe," the $1,500,000 picture that has been the sensation of the country, continues to play to capacity audiences at the Capitol Theatre. The book by Stanley Weyman, from which "Under the Red Robe" was picturized, is considered the historical masterpiece of that author, and is on the recommending reading list of the libraries. In many schools it forms an item in the literary courses.

ROYAL VICTORIA Norma Talmadge has introduced another Hollywood novelty which it is predicted will cause an even greater furore among both feminine and masculine patrons of the theatre than the Sheik. She has brought the Ouled Nail dancing girl to Hollywood. Of course, Norma's is an idealized version of this strange creature of the Sahara, who in real life is very, very good, but dances very intriguingly. The Ouled Nail dancer, say members of Norma's entourage, will appeal both to women and to men. "The Song of Love," which is a drama of the Algerian Sahara, will be shown at the Royal Victoria Theatre again today.

DOMINION THEATRE Probably the greatest, fastest and most exciting legitimate chase ever seen on any screen is woven into the story and action of Harold Lloyd's latest feature Pathe comedy, "Girl Shy," which will be seen again at the Dominion Theatre today. Thrills and dramatic tension, as well as laughs galore, are mingled together to help make this wild pursuit, with Lloyd as the central figure, one of the most memorable situations ever filmed, as fans will all no doubt agree when they see the spectacled comedian's latest and greatest comedy effort.

PLAYHOUSE THEATRE "A farce without equal" was the decision of one big dramatic critic years ago when speaking of "The Private Secretary," and his opinion still holds good, for there is little doubt that this wonderful play has still to be beaten for the cleverness of its dialogue and the ludicrousness of its situations. In its presentation at the Playhouse this week Ernie Petch is perfect in the part of Cattermole, the blustering old uncle, and as he himself says "It's a great part if only my voice hangs out for the week." Tonight will be "jazz night," with its attendant special music as well as the odd chance of a prize to stir the blood.

AMUSEMENTS

The Screen

Capitol—Robert B. Mantell in "Under the Red Robe."

Columbia—"North of the Yukon," starring Tom Mix.

Dominion—Harold Lloyd in "Girl Shy."

Royal—Norma Talmadge in "The Song of Love."

The Stage

Pantages—Vaudeville.

Playhouse—"The Private Secretary."

COLUMBIA THEATRE It was no common accident that inflamed the imagination of Jules Furthman to the extent of causing him to write one of the most amazing northern yarns ever filmed. During the first screening of "North of the Yukon," now showing at the Columbia Theater, which was the picturization of Mr. Furthman's most famous story, he was pressed by the private audience for its origin. Particularly interested was Tom Mix, the hero of the film play.

PANTAGES THEATRE A farcical comedy, entitled "King Solomon, Jr.," is the headliner this week at the Pantages. Charles Deland, famous comedian, is the star of the cast, which embraces seven beauties. The act is said to be laid with unusual lavish settings and the costumes are one of the features. Jack Strouse, who has his troubles with the manager during the performance, furnishes some of his inimitable blackface comedy. Frank Stafford, renowned in vaudeville as a character interpreter of unusual attainment, presents an artistic sketch entitled "Rip Van Winkle." The Rios, three top-rate gymnasts, appear in a series of clever tricks and artistic poses. Casson and Klem have an act in which mirth and melody are predominant. Then there's a Century comedy to finish off the bill. There will be a matinee and two evening shows today.

NEW FILM WITH JACKIE COOGAN HAS VERY WIDE APPEAL

Wide was the appeal of Jackie Coogan in "Long Live the King." Critics have unanimously agreed that Jackie's latest Metro picture, "A Boy of Flanders," at the Dominion Theatre next week, will exert an even wider circle of appeal—it is so human, so homely, so full of those touches of tenderness and pathos, that make the whole world kin.

Throughout the story, even in the moments of its mischief and fun—and they are many and reassuring—the characterization given by little Jackie is imbued with a fine spirituality of infinite appeal alike to children and grown-ups: it is chastening, ennobling and truly elevating.

JAMES BAY CHOIR RECITAL

A very novel and interesting entertainment was given on Monday evening by the James Bay Methodist choir, when the members attending represented different well-known songs. An excellent programme was provided, those taking part included Meadames Chave and Tupman, Misses Buckler and Scowcroft, Messrs. Smetherhurst, Buckler and Tupman, who rendered vocal selections; Miss G. Davies and Mr. Tupman, elocutionary numbers; Miss Buckler, violin solo, and Master G. Parrott, cornet solo.

After the programme was completed, a guessing competition was held, Mr. Tupman, the winner, managed to guess correctly seventeen of the songs represented.

The chair was occupied by Mr. Martin. Excellent refreshments were provided. The candy stall, presided over by the Misses Samuelson, Schroder and Rendell, proved very popular, and the stock was soon depleted. The proceeds are for the new music fund. At the last general meeting the following officers were elected: Director, W. J. Buckler; chairman, Justin Gilbert; secretary, F. J. Schroder; treasurer, Mrs. Reg. Chave. The attendance has been very good of late and there are still places for one or two more.

PRETTY WEDDING IS HELD AT CATHEDRAL

Miss Violet Josephs Becomes Bride of Mr. George Turner—Will Reside at Salt Spring Island

Christ Church Cathedral was the scene of a very charming wedding yesterday afternoon, when Violet Marjorie Jeanne, eldest daughter of Mr. and Mrs. W. W. Josephs, 436 Government Street, became the bride of George Archibald, only son of Mr. and Mrs. G. D. B. Turner, of Ganges, Salt Spring Island. The ceremony was performed by the Right Rev. Bishop Schofield.

The church had been beautifully decorated with white and mauve lilac forming an arch at the chancel. This was the work of Miss Vera Cockett, Miss Joyce Burrill and Miss Vera Trenchard, friends of the bride.

The bride, who was given in marriage by Mr. George Flamank, was very lovely in a gown of ivory crepe de Chine, draped and caught to the side with orange blossoms. Her veil, of embroidered tulle, was kindly lent by Mrs. F. G. Maynard. A shower bouquet of pale pink roses and maidenhair fern completed her charming toilette.

The bridesmaid, Miss Vera Cockett, wore a chic mauve Georgette frock with French model hat, and carried pink carnations. Mr. Arthur Little supported the groom.

After the wedding a reception was held at the Empress Hotel, where Mrs. W. W. Josephs, assisted by Mrs. George Flamank, received the guests. Mrs. Josephs was very smart in a navy blue and grey canton crepe dress and large navy blue hat trimmed with green grapes.

The bride's going-away dress was of beaded grey Georgette, with which she wore a quaint cloche hat and flowing veil; her wrap was of grey crepe romain.

After a motor trip, Mr. and Mrs. Turner will make their home at "Woodhill," Ganges, Salt Spring Island.

Those Who Come and Go

A party composed of Mrs. F. C. Burroughs, Miss Mary Hay, Mr. C. R. Burroughs and Mr. and Mrs. W. D. Hay, of Toronto, arrived in the city yesterday afternoon and are staying at the Empress Hotel.

Mr. and Mrs. C. G. Connor, of Edmonton, are at the Empress Hotel.

Mr. George H. Collins, of New York, is at the Empress Hotel for a few days. Mr. Collins is well known in British Columbia, where he has in the past twenty-five years been prominently identified with various big enterprises. For many years he was associated with the mining operations in the Province and about fifteen years ago entered the fishing business by becoming the organizer of the Canadian Fish and Cold Storage Company which is now operating on a large scale in Prince Rupert. He secured the money for the carrying out of this immense cold storage plant and saw it built and put into operation. He has come to Victoria in connection with some business enterprises with which he is associating himself and will probably visit the Coast again shortly.

Mr. M. P. McCaffery, of Prince Rupert, who was here a few days ago, has returned after a short visit in Vancouver.

C.P.R. CLUB HOLDS ITS LAST DANCE TONIGHT

Social Committee Makes Elaborate Plans for Closing Event of Season at Empress Hotel

The Winter activities of the C.P.R. Social Club come to a close tonight, when a ball will be held in the Empress Hotel. The small dances during the Winter season have been an undoubted success, and the many patrons are expected to be present at the final dance.

The dance committee has completed all arrangements, and, judging from the sale of tickets already made, the dance promises to be as successful as any yet held under the C.P.R. colors.

THIRD PARTY ACTIVE IN ALBERNI DISTRICT

Alderman McNaughton Mentioned as Likely Candidate—Convention to Be Held Shortly

PORT ALBERNI, April 30.—A nominating convention of the Provincial Party has been called for the Alberni riding for May 7, and will be held at Port Alberni. It is expected that a large number of delegates will be in attendance to nominate the first Provincial Party candidate for this district. Following the convention a public meeting will be held in the Port Alberni Theatre, at which General A. D. McRae, Sir Charles Hibbert Tupper and, probably, Alderman E. Woodward, of Victoria, will speak, in addition to the party candidate.

Speculation is rife as to who will be the candidate. Among others the name of Alderman C. A. MacNaughton is prominently mentioned. Alderman MacNaughton is well known and liked throughout the district, and in addition to being one of the city fathers, is a J.P., and member of the Board of Police Commissioners. In spite of reports to the contrary appearing in The Vancouver Sun, the Provincials here are very much alive. They have been quietly and steadily working ever since the Vancouver convention, and fully expect to return their candidate to the Legislature at the next election.

QUALICUM PREPARES FOR ACTIVE SUMMER

All Hotels at Popular Island Resort Expect Good Season—New Accommodation Added

QUALICUM BEACH, April 30.—This popular up-Island seaside resort is going through an extremely busy time just now. Preparations are being made for a record influx of visitors and tourists this season. Indications from the bookings at the Qualicum Beach Hotel, the Sunset Inn, and Beach House boarding establishment for Summer accommodation leave no doubt as to the wide popularity Qualicum Beach has gained for itself.

The excellent golf links is in splendid condition, and large numbers of enthusiasts are to be seen daily enjoying this favorite of pastimes. The Log Cabin on the beach is having extensive additions made to it, a new and much larger dancing hall is replacing the old one, which will be converted into an up-to-date restaurant. An imposing main entrance is also being added, and the grounds are being tastefully laid out, and will be lit with electric light. This popular amusement centre will open for the season about May 15. Pictures will be shown twice weekly, and the dances, which were enjoyed so much last year, will be held every Wednesday. Boats and bathing boxes are available for visitors at very reasonable prices.

Building is very brisk. Mr. A. N. Fraser, the local contractor, is having a hard job finding enough men to cope with the work.

GYRO HOE DOWN TO BE SNAPPY AFFAIR

Foot and Mouth Disease Will Not Interfere With Horse Races at Frolic

The Gyros are ready to go.

Yes, everything is in readiness for the big Gyro Hoe Down on the evening of Friday, May 9, at the Agricultural Hall, Saanichton.

And there promises to be a great time there, too.

If there ever was a function which has caused interest among the amusement lovers of the city and district, it is this barn dance and frolic, which is being conducted under the auspices of the Victoria Gyro Club.

Giddap. There will be loads of merriment and joy at the Hoe Down, and not a dull moment from start to finish will be found. The Gyros and Gyrettes will be present in large numbers, as well as residents of Victoria, Saanich, Esquimalt and Oak Bay, all of whom will leave their cares at home and go out for a real honest-to-goodness good time.

The Saanichton Agricultural Hall will look like a barn on May 9, with plenty of hay and straw in evidence, while the implements of the farm will be seen in all portions of the "barn." Those attending the function will leave their evening suits, stiff collars, evening dresses and the like behind, and will come in overalls, ginghams, old clothes, fancy dress and comic costume. "Let joy be unconfined" will be their motto.

NO OPERATION FOR HER

She Took Lydia E. Pinkham's Vegetable Compound and Escaped the Operation Doctor Advised

Louisville, Ky.—"I wish to thank you for what your medicine has done for me. I was in bed for eight or nine days every month and had a great deal of pain. The doctor said my only relief was an operation. I read of Lydia E. Pinkham's medicines and tried the Vegetable Compound and the Sanative Wash, and they surely did wonders for me. I feel fine all the time now, also am picking up in weight. I will tell any one that your medicines are wonderful, and you may publish my letter if you wish."—Mrs. ED. BORNHLEIM, 1120 Ash St., Louisville, Ky.

Backache, nervousness, painful times, irregularity, tired and run-down feelings, are symptoms of female troubles. Lydia E. Pinkham's Vegetable Compound should be taken whenever there is reason to fear such troubles. It contains nothing that can injure, and tends to tone up and strengthen the organs concerned, so that they may work in a healthy, normal manner. Let it help you as it has thousands of others. It is now selling almost all over the world.

WEDDINGS

Buller-Ratcliffe

A wedding of interest to many of his friends took place in Vancouver between Arthur Buller, of this city, and Ethel Ratcliffe, of Vancouver, on Saturday, April 26.

Ellis-Hodgkinson

A very pretty wedding was celebrated on Saturday afternoon at the First Congregational Church, when Rev. Mr. McMinn united in marriage Doris, youngest daughter of Mr. R. Hodgkinson, of 930 Queen's Avenue, and Mr. Charles James Ellis, youngest son of Mrs. A. Ellis, of Quadra Street. Entering the church on the arm of her father to the strains of the wedding march, the bride looked girlishly pretty in a gown of white crepe de Chine, with veil of Brussels net, caught under a coronet of orange blossoms. She carried a shower bouquet of bride roses and maidenhair fern and wore as her only ornament a handsome string of pearls, the gift of the groom. Her two attendants, Miss Rita Broadwell and Miss Sarah Ellis, sister of the groom, looked charming in frocks of Log Cabin crepe knit, with wreaths of pastel shades, and carried bouquets of pink sweet peas and maidenhair fern. The groom was ably supported by Mr. Frank French as groomsman. During the service Mrs. Lock sang "My Prayer," accompanied by Mr. Locke at the piano. About 50 guests attended the reception following the ceremony held at the home of the bride's father. Many beautiful gifts were received by the bride and groom, testifying to the popularity which they enjoy. Mr. and Mrs. Ellis left by the afternoon boat for Seattle, where the honeymoon will be spent, after which they will make their home on Donald Street, Victoria. The groom's gifts to the bridesmaids were strings of pearls, and to the best man a silver cigarette case.

Heaslip-Bennett

A quiet wedding took place on Tuesday evening at Breadalbane, the minister's residence, when the Rev. Dr. Campbell officiated at a ceremony which made Miss Elizabeth Sarah Bennett the bride of Mr. George Frederick Heaslip, both of Victoria. The bride, who was attended as bridesmaid by Miss Ivy Hanbury, was handsome in a traveling suit of dark gabardine, with hat en suite. After the ceremony Mr. and Mrs. Heaslip left by the night boat for Seattle, and on return will make their home in this city, of which the bride is a native daughter, the bridegroom being a native son of Saskatchewan.

DANCE IS ENJOYED

QUALICUM BEACH, April 30.—The management and staff of the Bluebird Lumber Company, Limited, gave a very delightful dance at the Sunset Inn on Friday last, when well over 200 guests were present. The two large rooms at the inn were very tastefully decorated, consisting chiefly of the bluebird strung across the rooms, and different colored balloons. These were let down after supper, and each dancer carrying one, made quite a pretty scene. The spot waltz, which came on later, was won by Miss Money and Mr. Howe in one room, and by Mr. and Mrs. F. H. Parker in the other. The G.W.V.A. orchestra provided excellent music, and were very generous with their encores. The management and staff of the company (and also of the inn) were indefatigable in their efforts to give everyone an enjoyable time, which they certainly succeeded in doing. Dancing was from 9 till 2.

Ernest Peden Is First in Class for Boys Under Sixteen Round Stanley Park on Roadster Bike—Cup Winner Makes Record for Course—Sixty-Five Enter Races and Ten Thousand Look On

VANCOUVER, April 30.—Ernest Peden, of Victoria, came in first tonight in The Province annual bicycle race for boys under sixteen, riding roadsters. In the main event, with racing machines, F. W. Rose finished, but had a mishap to his machine during the course, while William Peden, a third entrant from the Capital City, met with a spill and had to fall out.

A New Record

In the "A" racing machine event, Dave Cook, of Vancouver, made a record for the 8¾-mile course around Stanley Park, winning the Province Cup, in 19 minutes 10 4-5 seconds. James Davies, of Vancouver, was only five inches behind him, however. Charles Staples, Vancouver, who won The Victoria Colonist Cup last year, was third.

In the "B" event, for boys over 16 on roadsters, Ray Dealy, Vancouver, won in 20 minutes 18 2-5 seconds. K. Lambert and H. S. Webster, Vancouver, were second and third.

Ernest Peden's time in the "C" event was 20:35. Wm. Frost and Stanley Welburn, Vancouver, came second and third.

Eddie Forst won the "D" event, boys 14 and under, in 23:10, followed by Jack Ostertag and John Quigley, second and third.

The same course was followed by all classes and, in all, sixty-five boys contested, while 10,000 people lined the roads as spectators. A new record was set for each of the races.

COUGARS AND CATNIP

Sir,—Another word as to catnip and cougar. I am just in receipt of a letter from the Bureau of Biological Survey, Washington, D.C., in connection with my effort to secure a supply of this scent for use in an attempt to exterminate the cougar pest, and I am sure it will interest you and the "Old 'Un." Mr. W. C. Henderson, Acting Chief of Bureau, writes:

"This product is not available on the market, so far as we have been able to learn. It was necessary for us, in order to obtain sufficient material for our experiments, to have a crop of catnip grown on our experimental farm and to have it extracted by the Drug Division of the Bureau of Plant Industry. Our supply at this time is practically exhausted. We have made arrangements for growing another crop and hope to obtain a good supply. . . . In event we are successful in obtaining a good supply of oil of catnip we shall be glad to furnish you a sufficient amount to test out its effectiveness. It has proved to be remarkably attractive to practically all of the cat family upon which we have had opportunity to make tests."

The above by way of interest for those concerned in our serious desire to protect the game from the cougar pest.

Yours faithfully,
M. B. JACKSON.
Chairman, Game Conservation Board.

FALKNER HAD LEAD ON WEDNESDAY

VANCOUVER, April 30.—Yesterday's sessions served to give Claude Falkiner the lead in his billiard match at the Central Club with Jack McMillan, local cueist, who is conceded 2,000 start in a 4,500-point match. The closing scores yesterday were: Falkiner (in play) 3,003; McMillan, 2,742.

TOMMIES DEFEAT PICKED ELEVEN

SCORE IS 3-1 IN EXHIBITION SOCCER MATCH

Garrison Wins Last Game of Season Against Representative Eleven—Pendray Cup Is Presented

The Garrison Wednesday League soccer eleven made a fitting finish to the present football season when they handed "the remainder" of the league a 3-1 defeat at the Royal Athletic Park, in a game played under ideal weather conditions. Yesterday's match was to bid farewell to the mid-week soccer for the present season, and now the players will put their soccer togs away for the Summer months. Playing downhill in the first half, the Tommies found it impossible to score, sensational work by Shrimpton, of the Bays, between the sticks for "the remainder," saving his team from an early defeat. The Garrison citadel, too, was in danger on more than one occasion during this part of the game, but Spiers, who substituted for Bliss between the sticks, was on the alert, and the attempts of the opposing eleven to net the magakin were frustrated. The sounding of the whistle for half-time found the score sheet clean.

The rest period over, the soccer struggle continued, and for fully twenty minutes neither team was able to score.

Coulter Opens Scoring

To Coulter, playing centre forward for the Tommies, goes the credit of scoring the first goal. With the play in the goal mouth, this player headed the ball towards the goal. Striking the upright, the ball found its way out of reach of the net custodian. Ten minutes later, Hussleton shot from the wing and scored goal number two. With a 2-0 score against them, the eventual losers put up a game fight, and carried the play to their opponents' end of the field, but they always seemed to fall down at the opportune moment, and before they could find the net Bliss had scored another goal for the Garrison. With the concluding stages of the game drawing near, "Dutchy" Davis saved his team from a whitewash when he beat Spiers with a well-placed shot just under the crossbar. The final whistle sounded a few minutes later, Percy Payne refereed. The line-ups follow:

Garrison—Spiers; Armstrong and Grimes; Mitchell, Ward and Kemp; Cummings, Humphreys, Coulter, Bliss and Hussleton.

Remainder—Shrimpton (Hudson's Bay); Gardiner (Hudson's Bay) and Gilbert (Teamsters); Lynn (Broad Street) and Rowan (Teamsters); Nex (Broad Street); Hawkes (Hudson's Bay), Heathfield (Hudson's Bay), Davis (Teamsters) and King (Hudson's Bay).

Presents Cup

After the game the Pendray Cup was presented by Mr. Lawrence, who represented Mr. Pendray. In a very few words he presented the cup to Sergeant Spiers, captain of the Garrison, and complimented his team on winning the trophy. Immediately after the cup was presented the crowd gave three hearty cheers for the Garrison, and once again the curtain is drawn on the Wednesday Football League for the season 1923-24.

LABOR PARTY FORMS B.C. ORGANIZATION

Convention Held in Vancouver—Victoria Branch to Pick Candidates for Election Next Month

With ninety delegates representing Vancouver, New Westminster and district labor unions, the convention held Tuesday evening in Labor Hall, Vancouver, was the most harmonious and representative ever held in the Province. The admission as affiliants of the Federated Labor Party and the Workers' Party of Canada within the ranks of the Canadian Labor Party, removed all opposition between the contending groups and made possible the united front now being attempted throughout Canada.

The seating of twelve delegates from these bodies brought up an accredited representation of one hundred and two or three for each body represented. After reading the convention call, the Canadian Labor Party came into existence without a dissenting voice, with a president, vice-president, secretary-treasurer and three trustees as a provisional directorate. Those will act until the next convention is held, when permanent officers will be elected. May 31 and June 1 were the dates decided upon for calling the provincial convention and Vancouver will again be the place of meeting.

A local nominating convention for placing candidates in the field for a provincial election will be held on Saturday, June 14. The Victoria branch will be organized on May 16, the selection of candidates to contest the Victoria seats being left in the hands of the local body.

As a working basis for the preliminary organizing of local groups, the constitution and standing orders of the Ontario section was adopted. This will be remodelled to suit provincial requirements at the next convention, when other portions of the Province are represented. The meeting was presided over by the provisional officers of the Canadian Trades Congress and their report on procedure was adopted with little discussion.

Manager of E. P. Ranch Expects Visit From His Royal Highness in Fall

CALGARY, April 30.—"As His Royal Highness the Prince of Wales is likely to be with us again this Fall—" this clause in a letter received by William Reader, superintendent of Calgary Parks, today from Professor W. L. Carlyle, manager of the royal rancher's ranch at Pekisko, gives official indication of the manner in which the Prince of Wales intends to spend his Autumn vacation this year, following cancellation of his proposed tour of South Africa owing to the election there.

ULULA WINS

EPSOM DOWNS, April 30.—Ulula, by Ulster King, out of Sailor Lassie, owned by Lady Torrington, won the City and Suburban Handicap of £1,000 at a mile and a quarter, run here today. Lord Coventry's Verdict was second, and Lord Queensborough's Greek Bachelor third. Ulula, in a field of ten horses, won by three lengths, with two lengths separating Verdict and Greek Bachelor. The betting was: Ulula, 100-6; Verdict, 5-1, and Greek Bachelor, 8-1 against.

Canadian Soccer Team Reaches New Zealand And Reports All Well

AUCKLAND, N.Z., April 30.—The all-Canadian soccer football team, which is to tour Australia and New Zealand, arrived here today aboard the steamer Niagara, and all members were reported in good shape. The team had a workout at Suva en route and two good practices will be held here before the Niagara continues her voyage to Sydney. The Canadian players expect to be in good condition for their first game in Australia, to be played in Sydney on May 10.

CRICKETANIA

"There's a chiel amang ye, takin' notes and I' faith he'll print 'em."

With the opening of the league games last Saturday the season commenced in fine style.

The weather was ideal, the grounds in fine condition and three good games were enjoyed.

The Aiblons at Cowichan, or rather at Duncan, had a stiff fight, and F. Jordan and E. Parsons are to be congratulated on a fine last wicket stand, which veritably snatched victory out of the jaws of defeat. Captain Matthews, of Cowichan, and Eric Quainton, of the Five C's are both deserving of great praise for their fine innings of seventy-nine each. Perhaps young Quainton's effort was the finest display seen for a long time, as he gave no chance, and the "dead" ground at Beacon Hill made the boundaries hard to find.

F. A. Sparks gave an excellent display of cool and resolute hitting, at a very critical state of the game for his side, sixty-four not out.

Tracey did fine work with the ball once more; seven wickets for eight apiece is not bad for a youngster!

J. H. Gillespie's three wickets for eight and twenty-eight off his own bat, together with Capt. Coley's vigorous forty, assisted Victoria to an easy victory over the United Services, despite a nice forty from Sergt Watson ("Attaboy Wattie") for the losers.

"Our cricketistical coadjutor says sixteen cricketers made a good round O. I am afraid he meant it sarcastic like," a certain sports writer, referring to our esteemed president, speaks of our "veterinary president," was he trying to give him the horse laugh?

Saturday Games

Next Saturday the Incogs meet Victoria at Mr. Tolmie. Five C's play Cowichan at Beacon Hill, while United Services oppose the Aiblons at Work Point, thus the losers of last Saturday play the winners of that date, and as the teams will be stronger in almost every case, cricket fans can look forward to three interesting struggles. A fair field and no favor, let us hope.

Our statistical secretary aforesaid would be extremely glad if scorers at matches would be kind enough to see that the bowling analysis figures check up correctly with the total scores, otherwise his work cannot be correctly recorded. 'Nuff said. Thank you, gentlemen of the pencil and book.

SPLIT WIDENS IN U.S. TENNIS RANKS

Reconstruction of Player-Writer Rule Appears Likely—Tilden Refuses Offer to Turn Professional

NEW YORK, April 30.—The split in tennis ranks over the player-writer issue, which has resulted in the withdrawal of William T. Tilden and Vincent Richards from the Olympic and Davis Cup teams, was widened further today in spite of efforts to pave the way for a settlement. Later developments in the controversy included "conditional acceptance" by the United States Lawn Tennis Association of the resignation of Richards after failure to persuade him to withdraw it, refusal of Tilden to consider an offer to become tennis professional of the Briarcliffe Lodge, and additional evidence that agitation in the ranks of the U.S.L.T.A. may force a reconstruction of the player-writer rule.

Although reports from Chicago indicated that Mid-Western units of the U.S.L.T.A. did not contemplate interference in the row, it was learned that pressure is being brought to bear from that, as well as other quarters, to have the entire case revived. On one authority here it was said officials of the association plan within ten days to meet and map out a definite course of action.

ESSAY COMPETITIONS BECOMING NUMEROUS

Municipal Inspector States That Such Contests in Schools Interfere With Routine

Essay contests in Victoria public schools and their effect upon the regular school routine was the subject of considerable discussion at last night's meeting of the Victoria School Board. The subject was introduced with the reading of an announcement from the Victoria Society for the Prevention of Cruelty to Animals, stating that the "Be Kind to Animals" week had been set to start on May 11 and last to May 17, and that school children be requested to enter an essay contest on the subject.

The municipal inspector, Mr. George Deane, held that such competitions among the school children were all right in moderation, but that too many of them were being held and in consequence the regular routine of school work and management was being interfered with.

At the suggestion of Trustee George Jay, chairman of the board, Doctor Edward B. Paul, M.A., LL.D., was appointed to the Senate of the University of British Columbia. Chairman Jay, who has held the office hitherto, stated that he had been unable to devote sufficient time, and he considered Doctor Paul in every way suitable for the post.

A committee composed of Trustee Lakefield, Mr. H. H. Smith, principal of the Victoria High School, and Mr. George Deane, municipal inspector, was appointed to arrange for the part public and high school pupils would officially take in the programme of activities in connection with the visit to Victoria next June of a fleet of the Imperial Navy.

CHURCH UNION BILL DISCUSSION OPENS

The outstanding feature of the day was the declaration of Sir Robert Falconer, president of Toronto University, first spokesman for the unionists, that under the bill the dissenting Presbyterians might form a Presbyterian Church, though he would not admit their right to be called the Presbyterian Church in Canada.

Speaking of the Methodists, Layman Elmer, of Kingston, admitted the right of Parliament to legislate on church union, but claimed that in doing so it should have regard to the wishes of the majority of those concerned.

T. B. Macaulay, of Montreal, a Congregational layman, urged the committee to be as "fair to a religious amalgamation as they would be to a business amalgamation." G. W. Mason, K.C., Toronto, one of the lawyers who drafted the bill, stated it went beyond any previous legislation in protecting the rights of dessentient religious minorities in case of union.

Sustained Questioning

The witnesses were subjected to sustained questioning during the day, particularly by opponents. Many questions turned on the point whether the unionists would agree to be bound by any bill passed by the committee. On this the witnesses declined to commit themselves.

Throughout the day the committee room was crowded with spectators.

The committee endeavored to get the use of the House of Commons Chambers for the purpose of accommodation, the crowds seeking entry, but this proved impossible as the House is sitting concurrently with the committee.

The SPORTLIGHT by Grantland Rice

To a Dream I Left Behind Me

I'm going back again.
Perhaps to find the wraith of something lost;
To miss the contest and the strife of men
And all the game's wild glory, with its cost;
To certain vanished mornings, slashed with gold;
To shadows blown at deep dusk from the hills.
I'm going back again before I'm old,
Beyond the field of fortune and its thrills.

I'm going back some day,
It may be when young April comes again,
Or when June's twilights hold their purple sway,
Or when December's snowdrifts sweep the glen.
Or it may be amid the golden flame
Of some far Autumn—out beyond the din,
As one who leaves the tempest of the game
To seek the shelter of an ancient inn.

I'm going back some day
Through ghosts and shadows of a losing fight
Or cheering crowds that might hold one at bay
To find beyond it all the peaceful night
Of quiet valleys, or some friendly lane
Where one can hear forgotten songs resung
As far, white roads re-echo the refrain
Of April mornings when the world was young.

"The Greatest Competitive Spirit"

Dear Sir,—Speaking of Ty Cobb's competitive spirit, here is the story of an incident I witnessed some ten or a dozen years ago and which I have never seen in print:

Detroit was playing in Boston and the visitors' bench adjoined the bleacher section, permitting rare opportunity for the fans to razz opposing players. The score was close, with Boston slightly in the lead, and Ty was getting an earful between innings, due to his inability to get going. Most of the stuff handed him was unprintable and a mighty effort was being made to get his goat. About the fifth inning, as I recall it, Ty came up at the head of the batting order and was immediately assailed by a verbal barrage of unusual venom. My seat was in a box right back of the bench and I could clearly see the glint that came into Cobb's eyes as he picked up his bat, turned and thumbed his nose toward the bleachers and declared in vitriolic terms that he was going to show up the entire Boston team (adjectives deleted). He kept up a running fire of taunts and jibes while waiting for a good one to come over, and then whanged out a stinging single to right. But, instead of slowing down at first, he doffed his cap to the bleachers, and, to the amazement of everyone, kept right on for second. Of course, the right fielder was stupefied, hesitated, and then hurried his throw, the ball going to the grandstand, where the catcher retrieved it and promptly threw it to deep left field. Cobb never once hesitated, but rounded third for home at top speed, and as the catcher took the throw for a put-out at the plate Ty pulled one of his famous slides, upsetting the catcher and sending the ball out of his hands. He got up, dusted himself serenely and bowed low to the bleachers, exclaiming: "I told you I would show up your rotten team," or words to that effect. His audacity so upset the team that Detroit forged ahead and won handily.

To my mind that was the greatest display of competitive spirit I ever witnessed. LOUIS KIBBE.

* * * * * *

In certain respects there is an even greater type of competitive spirit attached to such as Walter Johnson, Christy Mathewson or Jack Dempsey, who have had the knack of centering their entire attention on the job ahead, regardless of any unfriendly chatter of the crowd. The best way for an athlete to get back at an unfriendly crowd is to look through said crowd as if there was nothing present but empty space.

Sportive Punches

By the "Old 'Un"

Wonderful how encouraging the Olympic games are to amateur sport. The main events have not yet taken place, but the hockey championship had not been decided very long before the winning team applied for admission to a professional league for next year's play.

* * * * * *

They don't all do it, because we are solemnly assured by "wise men" from the East that IT PAYS BETTER (unless you are a real topnotcher) TO PLAY AS AN AMATEUR THAN AS A PRO, back somewhere the other side of the Rockies.

* * * * * *

An exchange says that defining an amateur is becoming increasingly hard. AMERICA has decided that a tennis player who writes for the Press is not an amateur and cannot compete in the OLYMPICS.

* * * * * *

AUSTRALIA says he may send his stuff by mail, but cannot cable it, otherwise he is a professional and ineligible to the Olympics.

* * * * * *

(Our own sporting editor says that an amateur is the "guy" who can't use a typewriter but writes his stuff in faint pencil on both sides of the paper and kicks like blazes if it ain't in the paper next morning.)

* * * * * *

Baseball lost a place in history a little while ago when it was revealed that a story ABE LINCOLN received the news of his nomination to the presidency while playing baseball is untrue.

* * * * * *

Baseball will have to take a back seat in favor of politics this time.

* * * * * *

Sometimes the critical judges of literary and grammatical accuracy who read the stuff written by some of us newspaper "boys" (and girls), who, by the way, have to write it in a helluva hurry, are apt to be severe over little matters such as mixed metaphors!

* * * * * *

That's why after we've had certain daily journals (published elsewhere) held before our eyes as standards of excellence in spelling, grammar, composition, and everything else that really matters more than the mews itself, that we take a little comfort to ourselves when we notice that they, too, sometimes trip.

* * * * * *

Even the Thunderer!

* * * * * *

In a recent issue of The London Times, The London Times, yea verily THE LONDON TIMES, we were tickled to read that it was a pity a certain gentleman was unable to take part in a recent golf tournament between men and ladies in the Old Country.

* * * * * *

The reason given for its being such a pity was that he always proved a thorn in the side of the ladies and a tower of strength to the men. And all that in one sentence!

* * * * * *

Possibly if he had played he might have turned out only a broken reed after all.

* * * * * *

We aren't complaining and we didn't lose any money, but if racehorses showed such in and out form as some football teams and other teams we've heard of there'd be murder done now and again.

* * * * * *

On the other hand, if every game resulted true to form (on paper) where would the sport be?

Old Method Web Cord Process

The New Web Cord Process

The Web Cord process unites the cords by saturating them in latex, the natural sap of the rubber tree, thus forming a web of pure rubber, insulating each cord from the other, eliminating cross threads which cause internal friction and destructive heat. Web Cords lie flat and even and take all strains with perfect uniformity.

The Web Cord process is used exclusively in Canada for building Dominion Royal Cord and U-cord Tires.

Sprayed Rubber

Sprayed Rubber is the natural, pure rubber extracted by evaporation, direct from the latex or rubber tree sap, thus eliminating the use of smoke, coagulating acids or other processes used in preserving crude rubber.

By the Sprayed Rubber process, the finest and purest rubber and therefore the strongest and most elastic, is obtained. Sprayed Rubber is used exclusively in Canada for the walls and treads of Dominion Royal Cord and U-cord Tires.

CONSERVATIVE ATTACK OPENS

J. H. Thomas, Secretary for the Colonies, immediately protested against the Conservatives regarding themselves alone guardians of the Empire.

Deplores Difficulties

Mr. Thomas went on to say that the Government deplored as much as anybody the difficulty that had arisen since the Baldwin Government had promised protection to the dominions and colonies and then suffered defeat at the polls for doing it, and he added: "But we are not responsible for the difficulty."

As evidence of Labor's interest in the Empire he submitted that of the thirty-two resolutions passed by the Imperial Conference twenty-eight had been adopted by the MacDonald Government, two were still under consideration, and two were rejected because they were the ones on which Mr. Baldwin had appealed to the country and the electorate turned them down.

Even while Mr. Thomas was defending the budget, the Liberals left their seats and held a party meeting. The meeting was originally called to consider complaints that the Labor Government had been contemptuous toward the Liberals, who were supporting them. But instead of declaring renewed warfare on Socialism, as some expected, the Liberal meeting hailed Labor's budget as one after their own hearts—"A Liberal and free trade budget, vindicating us for turning out the Conservatives," as Mr. Asquith described it.

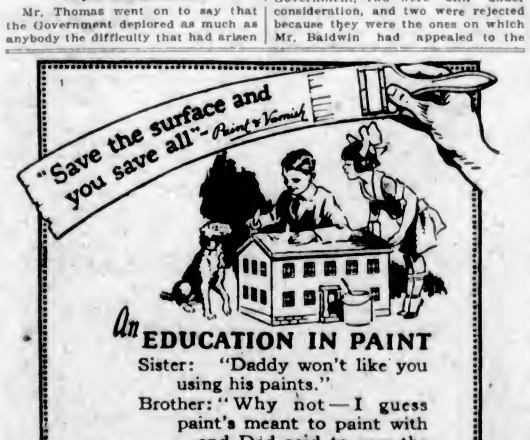

Sir Robert Horne, in his speech to the House, said that the Labor Government's abolition of the McKenna duties was going to have an ill effect on employment. The Government was surely running the risk of throwing more men out into the streets. Referring to Imperial preference, he said that two and a half million citizens were bearing the whole income tax burden of £330,000,000 yearly. It was from the savings of these very people that the industries of the country were maintained.

He pointed out that in the United States all parties agreed that the burden of taxation was too great; yet at the present time in Great Britain taxation was at the rate of $65 per head as compared with $29 per head in the United States.

Debate on the budget will be resumed tomorrow.

Three Labor members submitted an amendment to the budget bill to continue the McKenna duties until May, 1925.

A Liberal member gave notice of an amendment to reduce the income tax from four shillings sixpence to four shillings.

An EDUCATION IN PAINT

Sister: "Daddy won't like you using his paints."

Brother: "Why not—I guess paint's meant to paint with—and Dad said to save the surface was the best thing any fellow could do."

Sister: "Well let me paint some of it—I can paint."

Brother: "No, who ever heard of a girl paintin' anyhow, 'cept her face maybe."

Sister: "You're horrid". (Starts to cry.)

Brother: "Oh well, take a try at it then, but mind you don't run over the roof with that red."

And so they learn, and they cannot learn too young, the lesson that will stand them in good stead throughout their lives:—Save the Surface and You Save All.

Anti-Vivisectionist Condemns "Notoriety Given Insulin Remedy

An attack upon insulin was made at the annual meeting of the Victoria Anti-Vivisection Society on Tuesday by the honorary secretary, Miss Dora Kitto, who criticised the use of public funds for research work in connection with the Toronto remedy for diabetes.

"Toronto is the home of the much vaunted diabetic remedy called insulin and every effort has been made to bring notoriety to its discoverer and praise for the university," said Miss Kitto in her report of the year's work. "Honors have been heaped on Dr. Banting, of insulin fame, and the public is now being asked to contribute funds for establishing a research foundation at Toronto. The value of insulin has yet to be proved and those who approve vivisection should avoid parting with money to support further research. A letter protesting against the use of public funds in providing insulin treatment, or any other remedy procured by vivisectional methods was sent to the Premier of British Columbia."

The annual election of officers resulted in the reappointment of Mr. David Leeming to the presidency. Other officers elected were: Honorary vice-president, Mr. T. L. Bowden; vice-presidents, Mr. W. B. Pearse and Madame Rabo-Vivenot; board of directors, Mr. G. B. Kitto, Mr. H. Pate, Mr. G. Philbrook, Mrs. H. Crane, Miss Wyles, Miss J. Jones, Miss D. Kitto and Mr. S. T. Hankey.

TURN OUT REGIME IF IT'S UNWORTHY

HON. DR. MACLEAN SCORES ACTIONS OF THIRD PARTY

Denies High Taxation Drives Business From B.C.—Mr. J. D. Macdonald to Guide Oak Bay Liberals

"The Oliver Government has been in charge of your affairs for seven and one-half years. Its term of office does not expire yet for another eighteen months. That there will be an election is certain, but it is not known when the Government will go to the country. The question that the people must decide is whether the present administration is worthy of the continued support of the electorate. If it is not worthy, then turn us out, because the welfare of the Province comes before the welfare of any party or individual. However, if our actions, legislation and administration have been in the general interests of British Columbia and its citizens, then you have a duty to perform, and that duty is to work assiduously for the return to power of the Liberal Party in this Province. The responsibility is yours, you cannot get away from it."

Thus spoke Acting-Premier, the Hon. J. D. MacLean, Minister of Education and Provincial Secretary, during the course of an address delivered last night before the Oak Bay Liberal Association, at an organization gathering of that body. He defended the administration of the Oliver regime, reviewed the work of the Government, and declared that its record deserved the endorsation of the people of the Province at the polls.

The gathering was presided over by Mr. Joseph B. Clearihue, M.P.P., who in a short address told of the purpose of the meeting. Mr. J. D. Macdonald was the unanimous choice for the presidency, the other officials being appointed as follows: First vice-president, Mr. R. R. Taylor; second vice-president, Mr. H. L. Briggs; secretary-treasurer, Mr. C. H. O'Halloran; executive, Mrs. C. Nickerson, Mrs. R. William Lawrence, A. D. Macfarlane, Peter McKeehnie, Percy James, George R. Brown, Steve Flannigan, F. Pomeroy, Cecil Butcher, Thomas Oliver, R. J. Cull, J. Riach, C. Nickerson, Edward Brynjolfson, John Hibberson and E. Cooper.

Messrs. J. D. Macdonald, R. R. Taylor, C. H. O'Halloran, William Lawrence, Mrs. R. R. Taylor and Mrs. C. Nickerson were named as the Oak Bay delegates on the central Liberal executive.

Entry of the Provincials

At the outset of his address, Hon. Dr. MacLean referred to the entry of the Third Party into British Columbia politics. He stated that "as a people, we should not have any objection to the appearance of the Provincial Party providing that the party is advocating some policy that will advance the interests of the Province and its people. Unless that party has such a policy, it has no justification for its exestence.

Hon. Dr. MacLean said that the Third Party had no political past, although, he asked, "do you think for one moment that any party has a monopoly on virtues, and do you believe that by changing the name of a party that the result will make the party any better?"

When the Provincial Party first appealed for support, one of its salient features was its condemnation of the low plane which it stated politics had reached in this Province. The leaders of that party criticized the mudslinging that some of the people's representatives had indulged in, continued the speaker, who opined that there was nothing to be gained at any time by the employment of mudslinging tactics. But when the Third Party made its claim about the state of politics here, and the predominance of mudslinging, surely one would think that it would religiously try to improve the moral tone of public life in the Province. But what do we find, he queried.

The speaker stated that there was not one scintilla of truth in the cry made by the opponents of the Government that high taxation was driving capital and business out of the country. He read figures compiled by the Canadian Manufacturers' Association, which indicated that there were 1,700 manufacturing plants in B.C. in 1918, while in 1922 there were 2,575, an increase of over 500 plants in four years. This increase showed that 6,000 additional persons were employed in the plants, and the annual payroll in plants for 1922 was $13,000,000 greater than in 1918.

CITY MAY LOSE PORT BUSINESS

Would Avoid U. S. Ports

Japanese and British lines thus would eliminate American ports altogether and ship cargoes across the continent on Canadian railroads from Vancouver. Canadian roads have announced their intention of adopting freight rates to meet those projected for American lines under Section 28.

The vessels of the Nippon Yusen Kaisha, of the Osaka Shosen Kaisha and of the Blue Flunnel Line carry, as a rule, less than 300 tons of cargo for Victoria and Vancouver. The bulk of their shipments are destined for Eastern cities and ports on the Atlantic seaboard. They usually carry huge consignments of silk, sometimes worth as much as five or six million dollars. Insurance rates on this precious cargo and the interest on the capital involved render of great value even seconds saved in its handling.

It is argued that the Japanese and British vessels would not call at Victoria to discharge local cargo, valuing the three or four hours necessary for that operation too highly. They would proceed direct to Vancouver to expedite the passage of the major portion of their cargo across the continent to its destination. Local cargo would be transhipped to Victoria from Vancouver, it is believed, after the fashion of the Canadian Pacific liners before the advent of the Admiral Oriental Line in the transpacific trade.

It is possible but not probable, steamship company officials state, that the affected vessels will touch here to discharge mail and to enable passengers to disembark. Few passengers arrive on transpacific liners with Victoria as a final destination. The majority of the travelers on the Japanese liners are bound for Seattle. These would proceed to the Puget Sound port after disembarking at Vancouver. Arrangements would be made, it is believed, to have mail lightered to shore from the passing vessels by local craft.

Should Section 28 be enforced and three steamship lines named withdraw from Victoria, this port would lose what was variously estimated yesterday by shipping men as from one-third to one-half of its deep-sea shipping business.

The Canadian Pacific, the Admiral Oriental, the Canadian-Australian and the C.G.M.M. would be the only deep-sea liners including Victoria as ports of call in regular schedules of much importance. The Harrison-Direct liner Dictator, which is due here on Friday, will be the first vessel of that company to dock here in several months. In addition to the regular foreign services, tramp steamers would still call here for lumber. The activities of coastwise vessels would in no wise slacken, it is believed.

Vancouver will be the mecca of Pacific lines foreign to the United States should Section 28 come into effect. Shipping men there predict that the business of the Mainland port will be increased four-fold.

Among the steamship lines foreign to the United States which will be affected by Section 28 and which, it is said, would probably make Vancouver their headquarters on the Pacific Coast, are the Nippon Yusen Kaisha, the Osaka Shosen Kaisha, the Blue Funnel Line, the Toyo Kisen Kaisha, the Yamashita Kisen Kaisha, Mitsui & Co., and Suzuki & Co. The four last named companies make San Francisco their principal shipping point. The Union Steamship Company of New Zealand, operating to and from San Francisco, will also be affected by Section 28. In addition to the vessels of the foreseing fleets there are innumerable tramp freighters from the various maritime countries of the world which would choose Vancouver in preference to American ports under the conditions of Section 28.

The proposed law has met with widespread opposition from American Pacific Coast ports and there is a possibility that the opponents of the measure may succeed in effecting its postponement.

Calls Chancellor's Proposal a "Little England" Budget

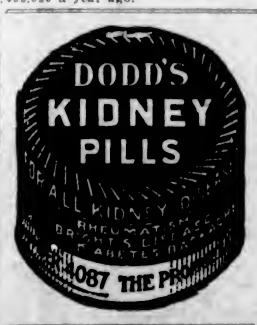

MELBOURNE, April 30.—The Melbourne Age, commenting on the British Budget, says: "It is a 'Little England' budget and takes small account of the Dominions. The reduction in expenditures was largely made possible by the abandonment of the Singapore base scheme and the desertion of Empire interests in the Pacific. While Great Britain prefers to trade with the foreigner she must expect the Dominions to suit themselves and fix their preferences accordingly."

MEMORIAL MEETING TO BE HELD TONIGHT

Speakers at the public meeting to be held tonight in the City Hall to discuss a war memorial for Victoria will include Mr. Lindley Crease, K.C., Mrs. Harold Fleming, chairman of the Red Cross Society in Victoria, and the president of the Victoria Women's Institute. The meeting will begin at eight o'clock, and will be open to discussion immediately after the introductory addresses have been given. The ladies of the Women's Institute, who are sponsoring the gathering, hope that the attendance will be large and enthusiastic.

Three and Half Millions Decrease in Revenue

OTTAWA, April 30.—A decrease of approximately three and a half million dollars in the total revenue from customs and excise during April, 1924, as compared with that of April, 1923, is shown in a statement issued by the Customs Department. The total revenue for the month just closing was $16,989,034, as compared with $20,492,020 a year ago.

Lucretia Lombard

A Story of Flaming Passion

By Kathleen Norris

THE STORY THUS FAR

Some society people of Sanbridge indulge in planchette writing which gives strange names, dates and prophecies that "all will be well after the fire." Only to Mrs. Lucretia Lombard, a member of the group and an interesting newcomer in town, do the names hold any significance, as they are those of her aunt and grandmother. The date given turns out to be that on which her husband, Sir Allen Lombard, a Scotch nobleman, suddenly dies from an overdose of narcotics, and on which she first meets Steve Winship, the District Attorney, whose engagement to Mimi Warren, his ward, has just been announced. Steve and Mimi have known each other all their lives, more in the manner of brother and sister. Mrs. Lombard draws him irresistibly, especially after he learns his grandfather loved her grandmother. But Lucretia foresees difficulties and, after narrowly escaping discovery by Mimi, begs him to allow their friendship to drop. After several months they meet again at a formal dinner. Steve determines to win Lucretia. Certain remarks make Steve wonder if his brother, Fred, also is in love with Lucretia. He rides with Lucretia to the mountains, where he joins Mimi. Mimi anticipates Steve's intentions by offering to break their engagement. Steve lacks the courage to be outspoken, so acquiesces to Mimi's plan merely to postpone their marriage. Missing his returning train he goes across the mountain to see Lucretia. She advised him to wait a little while. The sudden, serious illness of Judge Curran forced Mimi and Steve into the position of keeping their broken engagement a secret.

CHAPTER XXX

The Secret Pact

Mrs. Curran moaned a little against the folded handkerchief she pressed to her shaking lips. Mimi balanced herself upon her aunt's chair, one arm about the older woman's shoulders.

"You stay with us, Steve, Mimi needs you," his aunt whispered.

"I will, Aunt Bessy!"

"We all need you," faltered Mrs. Curran, weeping.

"What do you think Doctor?" Stephen said, courageously. The verdict made Mrs. Curran begin to cry quite loudly. Mimi cried, too, and Lizzie, flying for water, was also in tears. Stephen felt his own heart sink heavily; Uncle Sam had always been everything that was generous and good to his sister's children.

It might be one month, or even two, the doctor told them. But it would probably be only weeks. The surgery was too late, years too late. He might come home, in a week or two, might have September and October at Red Pine even; the main thing was to keep him from fretting, and out of pain.

Aghast, the young persons looked seriously at each other. And Mimi hated herself for a little singing, soaring recognition of one more bond between her and Stephen. They would all need her now!

"You're a wonder, Mimi," Mrs. Curran said.

"I don't know where we'd all be without you!" Stephen added, almost mechanically. But there was a quick gleam in her dark eyes, and something like a smile on her white face, in reply.

Seeing her so, the girl thought to herself, always busy, and beloved, and adequate, he must come to love her. This was not pleasure; not flirting and dancing as they had flirted and danced at the Country Club. This was real, this time of danger, illness, and strain, and he must see that she was no longer the old spoiled little butterfly Mimi, the little sister who enjoyed teasing and coqueting.

When she said good-bye to him at the front door in the morning, it was almost with the dutiful, bright smile of a wife.

"You'll get some fresh air today, dear? You look pale," Stephen would say.

Mimi found herself spared all the embarrassing questions she had anticipated, as to the wedding and the immediate plans. Nobody expected her to do more than fill this daughterly role, while the Judge lay between life and death.

When they brought him home, he was full of innocent boyish exultation in what he believed was to be a speedy recuperation. He was established in his big walnut bed, and the whole house began to circle about him. Mimi read him the morning paper, Stephen paid him constant visits, discussed local politics with him endlessly, and his wife was never long away from his side. Every night of sleep that he enjoyed, and every dainty little meal that cam upstairs to him, deepened his sense of triumph over illness, and made him happy. And while this state of affairs went on, Mimi knew that the question of the wedding was definitely shelved.

Sometimes she would sit thoughtful in the sickroom, sewing or reading, glancing now and then toward the drowsing gray head in the pillows. She would deliberately review the day, remembering every minute of it that touched upon Stephen.

She would fall into sorrowful musing. Had he ever really asked her to be his wife? Had she so lightly accepted that prospect, as one of the happy, triumphant things of her happy triumphant life! Mimi knew better now. The mere thought of that wid surety made her heart ache, and when she saw, in a closet or bureau, one of the gowns or blouses she had worn in that unbelievably glorious time of flowers and congratulations and engagement presents, last mid-Winter, she felt a pain at her heart. She hated the relentless calendar that made this seven and eight, and nine months in the past!

Twenty-three—and thirty—and thirty-five; the years menaced her with spinsterhood. If anything went wrong between her and Stephen, she would be an old maid all her life! Was this the way, the girl wondered, in which tragedies began.

Two weeks after the operation, the Judge was moved back to the cabin on Red Pine. Everyone told him that his convalescence was nothing less than an absolute miracle! Now he must be patient, must reconcile himself to idle days under the trees, and must make haste slowly when getting up, and entering upon anything like business responsibilities were concerned.

But Fred and Stephen and Ted came more constantly than ever, and Mimi showered upon her adored old guardian a love and loyality that filled his days to the brim. One day she wrote to ask Mrs. Lombard to spend Saturday and Sunday with them.

Mrs. Lombard did not answer by note, but she rode the six miles over the mountain, coming in upon them on a quiet, midweek afternoon.

The girl was extraordinarily glad to see her visitor:

"Do stay—and have supper with us, Mrs. Lombard," Mrs. Curran said in a flutter of pleasure.

"Stay overnight!" Mimi amended, eagerly. Lucretia looked hesitatingly from one to the other. "Only I wanted you for this week-end, too," the girl told her guest, hospitably, "because the Roy Newells, and their baby, and of course Stephen and Fred and Ted Rieger, are all coming up!"

"Week-ends are bad for me," Lucretia said, regretfully. Mrs. Cutran looked at her expectantly but she gave no reason.

Tomorrow: "Asking the Big Sacrifice."

PUPILS PRESENT ANNUAL CONCERT

Dramatic Entertainment of Students of St. Louis College Wins Warm Praise at St. Ann's Academy

On Tuesday night at St. Ann's Academy the pupils of St. Louis College gave their annual concert and dramatic entertainment. The hall was taxed to capacity by a most appreciative audience. The several items were carried through in that perfectly faultless style characteristic of the boys of that school.

The opening chorus, "O Canada," was followed by three other choruses, all rendered with marked precision. The clear enunciation and perfect tone coupled with a true balance of the parts, sustained the high reputation which this choir has already attained. In "The Music of the Birds" these qualities were particularly striking. Later on in the programme the youthful voices were heard in three other numbers.

Messrs. James Nesbitt and Harry Hebb delighted all by their soulful rendering of their solos. Each was given an insistent recall.

A particularly pleasing number was the piano duet by Masters Desmond and Brian Murphy. These young artists show every promise of becoming accomplished pianists.

The several dances were received with much enthusiasm and the physical culture classes deserve the highest praise.

Mr. Romilly Cecil entranced the audience by his display in the lightning bolas exhibition. The hall being darkened and the bolas illuminated the perfect geometrical figures described in the course of the rapid movements were wonderful.

Recitations were given by Messrs. George Gibson and Thomas White. Both were well received. The clear enunciation was specially commented upon. Mr. Martin Charlebois in "The Imaginary Invalid" caused much amusement.

Part two of the programme consisted of a presentation of the drama "Hermigild" or "The Two Crowns." With graceful acting and splendid delivery the several roles were perfectly sustained. There were moments of intense silence as the youthful performers carried their pieces to the climax.

The whole entertainment was charming from start to finish. The boys once again demonstrated the very careful training they are receiving at St. Louis College.

Mrs. Crawford Fennell played all the accompaniments in her usual skillful manner.

Bicycle Accessories and Repairs — English Bicycles from $45.00

PLIMLEY & RITCHIE, LTD.

Agents MASSEY SILVER RIBBON BICYCLES

611 View Street — We Call For and Deliver Your Cycle Repairs — Phone 1707

It's the "Hidden" Quality that Counts

WE could build another bicycle that would be almost a Twin to the C.C.M. in appearance, and yet be far inferior.

Without your knowing it, we could use cheaper tubing for the frames instead of our high-grade, English Seamless Tubing, reinforced at the joints.

We could use a cheaper hanger instead of the three-piece Triplex that makes the C.C.M. turn so smoothly and easily.

We could use cheaper bearings instead of our Flint-hard Steel bearings that a file cannot cut.

We needn't clean our frames so thoroughly, nor treat them with a coat of anti-rust before enameling. We needn't put on so many coats of our rich, lustrous special C.C.M. enamel, nor leave the frames in the enameling ovens so long.

We needn't take so much care in cleaning our handle bars, crank hanger, hubs and other parts before they're nickeled. We take off every speck of dirt and grease, so as to have a thoroughly clean surface.

Next we coat the parts with copper to prevent rust.

Then, the C.C.M. parts are left in the nickel baths for about two hours, instead of the twenty-minute or so dip given cheaply nickeled parts.

Wouldn't you rather pay a little extra for C.C.M. rust-proof nickeling, than to get a bicycle that, before long, shows little marks of red rust peeping through the nickeling?

We could save expense by not making all of the 1,761 parts of C.C.M. Bicycles with such care and precision.

C·C·M's are made so accurately, you could take two bicycles to pieces. Mix up the parts, then re-assemble the machines, and all parts would fit together perfectly.

We could omit many inspections and tests, instead of testing every part for quality, size and finish, and inspecting and "truing up" the bicycle at each stage of assembling, also before shipping the complete bicycl

By saving here and skimping there, we could give you a cheaper bicycle that would look like a C.C.M., but wouldn't be one.

All the extra hidden quality you cannot see with your naked eye would be missing. The bicycle wouldn't give you all the Extra Years of Easy Riding that the C.C.M. gives.

So, when you go to choose your bicycle, remember that it is the hidden quality that counts most. If you have to pay a small amount more for a C.C.M. than for something that looks like a Twin to the C.C.M., just remember that under the surface it isn't a C.C.M.

The Most Profitable part of any investment is the small extra amount you pay for Quality. C.C.M. quality is worth all it costs and is obtainable only in bicycles bearing the C.C.M. trade mark. Look for it when you buy.

C·C·M's are selling today at $15 to $20 less than the after-war "peak" prices. They are nearer pre-war prices and better value than almost any other high-quality article you can buy. A Big Dollar's Value for every dollar you invest in a C.C.M.

The C.C.M. dealer is waiting to show you the new 1924 models for men, women, boys and girls.

BEARISH INFLUENCES REACT ON STOCKS

New York Prices Decline at Opening But Overselling Causes Satisfactory Recovery

NEW YORK, April 30.—Stock prices developed a reactionary trend in the early part of today's market because of the bearish interpretation placed by many traders on the quarterly report of the U. S. Steel Corporation and publication of a relatively poor quarterly statement by the Studebaker corporation. Realization that many issues had been oversold brought about a recovery later which left many popular shares practically unchanged today.

While the Steel earnings were the largest of any quarter in peace time, professional traders used the prediction of Mr. Gary that substantial improvement in business could hardly be looked for until around election time as an argument for selling stocks.

U. S. Steel Fluctuates

U. S. Steel common, after fluctuations, closed unchanged at 98. Bethlehem Steel and other independent steels yielded fractionally.

Studebaker (old stock) opened unchanged at 82, advanced to 82 3-4, broke to 80 1-2, a new 1924 low, and wound up at 82 1-2. Erratic fluctuations also took place at United States Cast Iron Pipe, which closed at 89 for a net loss of 1 3-4.

Reduction of the local federal reserve rediscount rate from 4 1-2 to 4 per cent, which has been referred to as a constructive stock factor, was not announced until after the market closed.

Copper shares were inclined to heaviness on selling ascribed to speculative disappointment over the trend of the commodity market. Sugar shares held relatively firm despite disquieting reports concerning conditions in Cuba.

Independent Strength

Independent strength was shown by a number of issues, including Davison Chemical, which closed more than three points higher at 48 7-8, International Harvester and General Electric.

Trading in the rails was rather quiet, with popular shares displaying a firm tone.

Call money held at 4 1-4 per cent all day, despite the increased commercial demand for funds to meet month-end requirements. The time money market was dull, with a plentiful supply of funds offered at 4 1-4 per cent for the short maturities. The longer maturities and prime commercial paper continued to command 4 1-2 per cent.

Foreign exchange trading was again dull, with irregular fluctuations in rates. Demand sterling ruled nearly a cent lower, around $4.37 5-8, and French francs reacted slightly to 6.43c.

Bonds Lag

Bond prices lagged in today's dull trading, which was enlivened only by movements in a few individual issues. Firmness of money rates checked the buying tendencies which recently had been in evidence, turning the main trend toward lower price levels.

Announcement by the Bethlehem corporation that it would offer $30,000,000 additional 6 per cent bonds to the public influenced selling of the company's outstanding issues, which dropped 2 points each to new low prices for the year.

Seaboard Air Line obligations were the only conspicuous strong spots in today's trading. Serbian 8's were again the outstanding of foreign group, establishing a new 1924 high record of 82 3-4.

MARKET STRENGTHENS AT END OF TRADING

Nothing in Sight to Warrant a Sustained Advance at Present, General Contention

(By British-American Bond Corpn., Ltd.)

CHICAGO, April 30.—The early trading in the grain market was at lower levels, especially in rye, in which the liquidation on account of the near delivery was pronounced for a time. There was scattered selling in wheat and corn, but the losses were only fractional and were mostly made up at the close, when everything firmed up somewhat. The news on the growing crop and the prospects for the Spring wheat crop both here and in Canada are favorable to the bears, but not much attention is being paid to bearish news now. A few of the larger local traders are inclined toward working for higher prices now that the May delivery ceases to be a prominent feature in the trading. There is nothing in sight to cause a sustained advance in the market and trading from day to day for small turns is all that is anticipated.

Woman and Girl Hurt In Cuba's Latest Revolt When Rebels Steal Safe

HAVANA, April 30.—Open revolt broke out today in Santa Clara Province. Some twenty-five soldiers in the city of Santa Clara deserted with their arms, two machines guns and their horses, and attacked the city hall and seized the safe in the nearby town of San Juan de Los Yeras. In a clash there between the revolting soldiers and loyalist forces a woman and a girl were injured. As far as can be ascertained, the movement was a sporadic uprising and without centralized leadership.

California Writer Shoots Wife and Then Suicides

SANTA MONICA, Cal., April 30.—Walter B. Hill, a free lance writer, is dead here, and Mrs. Anna Hill, his widow, critically wounded following a shooting last night in the Ocean Park district of Santa Monica. According to Mrs. Laura Wallace, Hill's mother-in-law, the couple had been separated for several months, and Hill last night called on his wife and suggested they take a walk and talk over affairs. Police investigation indicates Hill shot his wife and turned the pistol on himself.

CHATHAM, Ont., April 30.—After firing two shots through the living-room of the home of Mrs. Charles Bussche, Raleigh Township, last night, one of which entered the woman's shoulder, Frank Glelis, of Eberts, drove two miles and a half, drank an ounce of iodine, and then shot himself through the forehead. The woman, who was first reported dead, was brought to the hospital here, and has a chance for recovery. Jealousy is said to have been the motive of the shooting.

Manager of B.C. Berry Growers Thinks Provincial Fruits Will Reach British Market

VANCOUVER, April 30.—Abolition of British duties on dried fruits, announced today by Philip Snowden, Chancellor of the Exchequer in the MacDonald cabinet, will have a stimulating effect on the fruit industry of British Columbia, H. S. Simpson, manager of the B.C. Berry Growers' Association, declared today.

"We have a very low freight through the Panama to the Old Country, and while we are not now producing any great quantity of dried fruit," said Mr. Simpson, "there are immense possibilities in that direction, and even though the tariff was small, because of the small margin on that kind of business it was enough to stand as a bar against the development of trade between this country and the Old Land."

A Trust Company's Charges

CONTRARY to popular belief, a trust company receives no more remuneration for its services than does a private executor or trustee. The amount is based on a percentage of the funds handled and is fixed by the Courts when the accounts are audited.

Consider the following advantages which a trust company offers you:—

- It is financially responsible.
- It is always available.
- Its officers have wide experience in the management of estates and trusts.
- It maintains an up-to-date accounting system, ensuring accuracy.
- It furnishes statements to beneficiaries at regular intervals.
- It keeps all papers and documents in Safety Deposit Vaults.

These and many other advantages can be secured at no greater cost than private trusteeship. You can readily see, therefore, that trust company service is the more efficient and less expensive for you in the end.

We solicit your business.

Portland Canal Mining Camp "TERMINUS"

Since 1910, when discovered, the Terminus has been developed slowly for want of sufficient funds.

To date, two very high grade substantial ore bodies have been found, also large bodies of lower grade, and surface showings of great promise.

Geological conditions favor the existence of consistent ore to a depth of 4,000 feet. A fraction of this would constitute it a rich mine.

THIEPVAL MAKES KURILE ISLANDS

CANADIAN TRAWLER FINISHES TWO MONTHS' DUTY

Col. Broome Tells of Bases for British Fliers Established During an Adventurous Voyage

ABOARD U.S. DESTROYER JOHN D. FORD, KASHIWABARA BAY, KURILE ISLANDS, April 30.—The Canadian trawler Thiepval arrived here today following two months of adventurous voyaging in turbulent Arctic seas, where she has been establishing bases for the British around-the-world fliers.

The Thiepval expects to continue southward along the Kurlies as soon as permission is received from Tokio for calls to be made other than Kashiwabara and Hitokappuwan. These two bays will be used by the American army fliers. Two Japanese laisson officers boarded the Thiepval, and will remain with her while she is in Japanese waters.

Establish Bases

Col. Broome, the British fliers' advance officer aboard the trawler, stated that he had established bases at Petropavlovsk, Bering Island, Attu and other places along the Aleutians where jumps will be much shorter than those planned for the Americans. He said he had left ten days' provisions, fuel and spare airplane parts along the line.

The British officer said the weather had been extremely disagreeable during the entire northern trip, beginning March 1. Col. Broome was not optimistic regarding the transpacific leg of the proposed British flight on account of probable bad weather.

At Tokio Next Month

He expects the British airmen to arrive in Tokio about the middle of June.

From Tokio Col. Broome expects to fly with the British contingent as far as Vancouver, on account of his knowledge of weather conditions, bases, etc. He said nothing had been left undone to secure the success of the flight, although it is "at long odds a gamble at best."

The weather here has cleared up slightly, but it is still unfavorable.

"Now Feeling Fine and Able to do my own work"

Mrs. Walter Grieves, Coe Hill, Ont., writes:

"I was in such a weakened, run-down condition that I could not take care of my household duties. I was unable to sleep at night, and the doctor told me I was anaemic. I commenced a treatment of Dr. Chase's Nerve Food and to-day I am feeling fine and able to do all my own work.

"My little girl had eczema, and different remedies took no effect whatever. We got a box of Dr. Chase's Ointment and that one box relieved her."

Both These Lines Are Made in Canada

The world is a big place, and brands of paints and brands of brushes there are by the hundreds, but there are no better PAINTS and BRUSHES than the following two lines carried by us:

"M.L." PAINT—Some of the qualifications that go with "M.L." paint: It gives the utmost in protection and preservation; successfully withstands extreme heat and cold. In course of time when repainting becomes necessary the foundation is good for fresh paint. For those little home-painting jobs or for the painter who paints for a living, "M.L." Paint is THE Paint.

BOECKH'S RUBBER-SET BRUSHES—The bristles can't come out. These brushes are known the world over. There are none better and they're made to suit all purposes—dustpan brushes, brooms, paint brushes, etc.

RAKISH CRAFT TO LOAD 40,000 CASES OF RUM FOR SOUTH

VANCOUVER, B.C., April 30.—With a typical Beau Brummel of the Lower California ports pacing the starboard deck, and a dainty, auburn-crowned maiden in a rich squirrel coat striding back and forth on the port side, Captain Fasca brought the Panama Diesel ship Principio into port here yesterday.

This boat is long and slim and looks like a lead pencil. She will load nearly 40,000 cases of liquor here for a port in the South.

When her new owners here saw the boat for the first time today, one was heard to remark that with a good side roll, she might mix a few good cocktails.

MOTOR FERRY SAILS FOR FESTIVAL TODAY

Motor Princess for Bellingham at 9:30 —Princess Louise Is Nearly Booked Up for Trip

The Motor Princess will sail from Sidney tomorrow morning for Bellingham at 10:30 o'clock, and not at 10:45 o'clock as announced in yesterday's edition of the evening paper. She will arrive at the American city at 12:45 o'clock and sail again for Sidney at 4 o'clock in the afternoon, arriving at 7:45 o'clock in the evening.

The same schedule will be maintained not only for the three days of the Tulip Festival, but on Sunday as well to enable those who wish to witness the concluding ceremonies of the festival on Saturday to return the following day.

Canadian Pacific officials announce that this year, as in the preceding two, scores of people will be disappointed at their inability to secure tickets for the Princess Louise's excursion to Bellingham. Indications point to a capacity load of excursionists on the queen of the C.P.R. ferry passenger liners when she sails for the American city at 9 o'clock tomorrow morning.

SIR LOUIS DAVIES DIED THIS MORNING

a Liberal, at an early age. His early political activities were confined to his native Province, where he gained the appointment of Solicitor-General in the year 1869. Three years later he was elected to the House of Assembly, and in 1876 became Premier and Attorney-General of the Province. He remained in the office for three years, when he was defeated.

Enters Federal Field

Following his defeat as Premier of Prince Edward Island, the late Chief Justice left the provincial field for the Federal. He was elected leader of the Maritime Provinces Liberal Association, and made a political tour of the Provinces in November and December, 1894.

When Sir Wilfrid Laurier became Premier, in 1896, he selected Sir Louis Davies as his Minister of Marine and Fisheries. While a member of the Laurier Cabinet, Sir Louis participated in a number of important international conferences.

In July, 1897, the late Chief Justice went to London and argued the question of the application of the German and Belgian Treaties to Canada, before Law Officers of the Crown, on behalf of Canada. Two years later, he was sent specially to England to lay before British Ministers Canada's contentions with regard to the Alaska boundary, and while there submitted the case of the Dominion to Lord Salisbury and Mr. Chamberlain.

Sir Louis Davies resigned his portfolio in the Cabinet on September 25, 1901, and was appointed to the Supreme Court Bench. On October 23, 1918, he was appointed Chief Justice of Canada, in succession to Sir Charles Fitzpatrick, and in December of the same year he received the honor of appointment to the Imperial Privy Council.

He was married in July, 1872, to Susan, fourth daughter of the late Dr. A. G. V. Higgins. He was a member of the Church of England.

Vancouver Witness Tells of Night of Horror

VANCOUVER, April 30.—The story of a night of horror spent with Joe Payne, alias Ebanks, colored, at her home on February 12 last was told today by Mrs. Exelda Johnson, a white woman, on the stand this morning when the trial of Payne commenced. Throughout the long night she was beaten and terribly assaulted, she declared, with the accused holding an open razor over her throat.

HOLDS EXAMINATIONS IN FIRST AID WORK

Colonel Hodgitts, Director-General of St. John Ambulance Association, Is in City

On his annual tour of Canada in the examination of the various teams competing for the trophies that are given under St. John Ambulance Association, Colonel Charles A. Hodgitts, of Ottawa, arrived in the city last evening from Cumberland. The colonel is the director-general of the Association for Canada and will remain in the city for a day or two meeting the members of the Provincial Council and others interested in this noble work.

In connection with the examination of the teams, Colonel Hodgitts is occupied for two months each year and travels over 10,000 miles. He regretted that there was not a team here entered in any of the competitions, and spoke very highly of the way in which the Nanaimo and Cumberland teams showed up.

The co-operation of the companies and of the men in the mining districts in the securing of the very greatest degree of safety is something that cannot be too highly praised, says Colonel Hodgitts.

The railways of the country are manifesting a deep interest in the work of safety and rendering of first aid. In this respect, the C.N.R. deserved very great praise. Under the system that had been initiated by Sir Henry Thornton there would be about 5,000 a year trained in the work of first aid.

In addition to the competitions, which were Dominion-wide, there were also a number of competitions under the various Provincial boards. Colonel Hodgitts was sorry that Hon. William Sloan, the president of the Provincial Council, was absent from the city. He will, however, meet others here, including Mr. A. J. Dallain, chairman of the executive committee, and Mr. H. M. Edwardson, secretary.

Colonel Hodgitts addressed a meeting at the Y.M.C.A. last night.

PLAN TO MEET ALTERED CONDITION

Victoria Publicity Bureau Will Seek Tourists for Early Part of Season —Auto Camp Opening

The Victoria Publicity Bureau is planning for a very vigorous campaign for tourists. The unfortunate outbreak of foot and mouth disease in California has interrupted the trade in this line from the extreme south, but it is felt that there may be compensations for this, inasmuch as there will be a tendency on the part of an increased number from the northern part of the Pacific Coast to visit points outside the infected area.

It is felt that a large amount of traffic may be diverted from the southern run in the direction of this city. Instead of visitors going from the Middle States and the east on down to California and later filtering through this way there is the possibility that the tourists may turn their faces this way direct and not make it a secondary matter, as would be the case in many instances where California was the first objective.

The next meeting of the Bureau will give attention to coping with the situation that has been created with the object of getting the best out of the trade.

The automobile camp will open today, and with the improvements that have been made to the place this year there is the prospect that it will attract many more than last year.

DRUG OFFENDERS NOT LIABLE TO HARD LABOR

Chief Justice Hunter Quashes Conviction as Police Magistrate Exceeded His Powers

From a judgment handed down yesterday in the Supreme Court by Chief Justice Hunter it is evident that the police magistrates in the Province might do worse than employ some little time in acquainting themselves as to how far their jurisdiction extends. The judgment of the Chief Justice has to do with the conviction of Low Quong, who was convicted in Vancouver by Deputy Police Magistrate J. A. Findley and sentenced to six months in jail with hard labor on the charge of having cocaine unlawfully in his possession.

An application was made before the Chief Justice under habeas corpus proceeding. His Lordship found that the conviction and the commitment are illegal and discharged the prisoner.

In his judgment he points out that both the conviction and the commitment bear the same date and impose the penalty of hard labor. He further points out that the act gives no power to impose hard labor and therefore they are held to be illegal.

In the judgment His Lordship deals with the request made on behalf of the crown that he should resort to the powers contained in Section 1124 of the Code and order the hard labor portion of the penalty struck out. He makes the following comment upon this:

"Assuming that I am satisfied in the words of the section 'that an offence of the nature described in the conviction has been committed,' and I am not suggesting any doubt as to the correctness of the magistrate's conclusion, the section goes on to say that I 'have the like power in all respects to deal with the case as seems just, etc.' While it may be just to be undergone or why the accused strike out a penalty which has yet to could have got the magistrate to set right as not having been imposed by him at the time of the sentence, how can it be just to strike out an illegal punishment after it has been suffered in whole or in part in order to save the conviction? How can it be anything but an illusory and empty order so far as doing justice is concerned? Would it be 'just' to uphold a conviction that ordered a whipping after it had been inflicted? If not, where is the difference in principle?

"I am unable to see that the court is bound to bolster up a conviction which rests on an illegal sentence and which has been enforced practically to its full extent. I think the conviction ought to be quashed and the prisoner discharged?

"I will add that I think any person who violates the provisions of the Drug Act ought to get hard labor, but that is not the law."
